CAL TARGET FOR ATTACKS BY DEMOCRATS

Battle in National Capitol Is Start of Political Fracas

PRESIDENT COUNTERS Injury to Coolidge Will Be Injury to Entire Republican Party

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1926 by the Post Pub. Co.
Washington—The political pot is boiling. The era of investigations is continuing. And the president is the target of the whole attack. For the opposition realizes that he is the strongest factor in the Republican party today. As he is weakened so is his party. And there is a congressional election coming this autumn.

This explains to some extent the pro and con of the battle going on now in the national capital. The effort to implicate Secretary Mellon of the treasury department and Attorney General Clegg in an alleged attempt to gloss over violations of the Sherman anti-trust law supposed to have been committed by the Aluminum company in which Mr. Mellon is a stockholder is the most conspicuous maneuver of all. For if it can be proved that two members of the cabinet subordinated the public interest to private considerations of party comradeship then the belief of the Democrats is that Mr. Coolidge will suffer thereby.

Although there isn't a scintilla of evidence to prove as yet that the Teapot Dome inquiry is a parallel to the aluminum case, nevertheless the Democrats realize that even with the best evidence in the Teapot Dome case they could not hurt Mr. Coolidge politically for he was not in office when the transactions occurred. As for the aluminum case Mr. Coolidge will be held responsible for whatever is disclosed to have been done by either his secretary of the treasury or attorney general.

WILL FIGHT BACK

The administration is not going to take the attacks lying down. The president has struck back through various channels. He has endeavored to prove to the press, for instance, that much of the gun-fire is political Mississippi, Democrat, resented the remarks attributed to the White House by newspaper reporters. It may be that before many days have passed the president will come out in the open against his critics.

For it is unquestionably a drive on him. Take, for instance, the agricultural situation. Some western Republicans are beginning to talk openly about backing former Governor Lowden of Illinois for the Republican nomination in 1928. This is on the theory that Mr. Coolidge will listen to the advocates of the Dickinson bill rather than lost political strength for the future.

Mr. Lowden has never said that he was after the 1928 nomination. Some of the agriculturists, however, have not hesitated to say they are for him because they know his name commands attention in the agricultural regions and in the Republican party generally. Mr. Coolidge, on the other hand, is standing his ground. He is saying nothing about 1928 and he isn't likely to do so for some time to come, if at all.

OPPOSE SURPLUS BILL

As for the Dickinson bill or any other measure that requires a government guarantee to handle the surplus exports, the administration will not support such a proposal no matter how intense the revolt becomes in the west. Some concessions will be made but on the principle of any government agency fixing the price of export wheat, the opinion of the administration now is that this should only be done by private business.

So with an agricultural discontent in the west likely to be transformed into a political war inside the Republican party and with the Democrats pressing hard to prove that big business does as it pleases with things in Washington under the Coolidge administration, the fighting is taking in a little wider scope nearly every day. The Democrats realize they need an issue. If they can prove special privilege exists they will bark back to the arguments of a generation ago in an effort to do what they did in 1910 when they got control of the house and 1912 when they won both houses of congress.

WAR EXPENSE BILL ASKS FOR 118,583 MEN

Recommends Appropriation of $7,000,000 More Than Last Year

Washington, D. C.—(P)—The war department appropriation bill calling for an army of 118,583 enlisted men and 11,749 officers, or approximately the existing strength, was reported Thursday to the house.

It recommends expenditures during the next fiscal year totaling $33,551,000 or $1,957,000 above budget estimates. This represents an increase of $6,965,000 over last year's appropriation and marks the first instance during the present congress where budget estimates have been exceeded. Of the total amount military activities will be given $261,081,000 or an increase of $1,223,000 above current funds and $864,000 above budget figures. Non-military activities would receive $78,500,000 an increase of $5,741,000 over current funds and $223,000 above the budget.

Funds directly provided for the army would be expended as follows: "For the air service $15,256,000 an increase of $345,000 over current figures. An authorization to contract for $3,000,000 additional expenditures would be provided. Of the total $7,004,000 or an increase of $704,000 would be for new equipment.

The bill would provide for a reduction in the number of non-commissioned officers and first class privates in order to effect a saving of $988,000. The appropriations subcommittee which drafted the bill said this reduction would be brought about by failure to fill such vacancies when they occurred.

A total of $6,000,000 will be for the procurement of ammunition and other supplies to build up the reserve kept on hand.

FAVOR SALE OF BEER AND LIGHT WINES

Episcopal Church Society Says Country Is Worse Off Now Than Before

New York—(P)—The church temperance society of the Episcopal church, for 51 years a leader in the cause of prohibition, it is announced, favors modification of the Volstead act to legalize the sale of light wines and beer. The announcement was made Wednesday through the Rev. Dr. James Empringham, national secretary, formerly national vice president of the Anti-Saloon league.

A poll of the 20,000 members of the society, Dr. Empringham said, showed an overwhelming preponderance in favor of modification of the Volstead act. He said that his announcement was made public over the pleas of several prohibition leaders who had asked that he suppress it lest it do irreparable damage to the cause of prohibition. Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel to the Anti-Saloon League of America was among those who asked him to hold it up, he said.

Mr. Wheeler at Washington has denied he telephoned Dr. Empringham on the matter but has admitted that he wrote to ask an opportunity to present figures showing the other side of the picture.

REPORT FAVORS CHANGE

In a report made by Mr. Empringham to a closed meeting of Episcopal clergy at the town hall Monday, he said that his society was now in favor of modifying the Volstead act.

1. Because the effect of prohibition has been to put an end to scientific temperance teaching.

2. It has discouraged the consumption of wine and beer and increased the demand for distilled liquors which today are mostly poisonous.

3. It has resulted in increased drinking among young people.

4. It has brought about disrespect for all laws.

5. It is class legislation discriminating in favor of the rich.

6. In our survey we found intemperance increased. The survey referred to was one made by Empringham more than a year ago throughout the nation in an effort to prove that prohibition was a success. This survey, he told the assembled clergy, showed him on the contrary, the prohibition laws had made the situation worse.

SPREADS LAWLESSNESS

"We believe," he continued, "that the first result of this disclosure will be that the societies will get back on their old jobs and do thoroughly what they were doing when prohibition came along—carry on an educational movement which is the only hope for the suppression of the whole liquor traffic. But we honestly believe that prohibition has been responsible for a spread of anarchy and general lawlessness and that a modification of the Volstead act would be in the interest of prohibition and temperance."

Mr. Wheeler characterized the announcement of the change in policy as "especially ill-timed now because government documents recently issued testify to prohibition's observance, enforcement and good results."

"I am amazed that they advocate modification so as to permit light wines and beer," he said. "This is the brewers' program and not the program of the churches that won the fight for prohibition and are fighting for its enforcement."

Wine, Beer Attitude Of Church Starts Fireworks

Washington, D. C.—(P)—Advocacy of light wines and beer by the church temperance society of the Episcopal church provoked a volcanic outburst of comment Thursday from various organizations interested in prohibition and led also to some fireworks in congress.

Wayne B. Wheeler of the Anti-Saloon League, issued a statement denying in detail the conclusions of the fact on which the society based its decision.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson, of the Methodist Episcopal board of temperance, said the Episcopal church had "contributed nothing to the triumph of prohibition and its attempt to be true it will be without consequence."

As soon as the senate met, Senator Edge, Republican, New Jersey, who has a beer and wine bill pending, put into the record the announcement made in New York on behalf of the Episcopal society by Dr. James Empringham, but it was admitted only after it was agreed to print with it the reply issued Wednesday night by Mr. Wheeler.

In the statement he issued Thursday, Mr. Wheeler disputed directly the six points set forth by Dr. Empringham. He declared that prohibition had stimulated rather than eliminated scientific temperance teachings; that "deans of colleges and universities and high school principals have denied the wet slander that youth is as drunken today as when the license system existed; that prohibition has not only discouraged consumption of wine and beer but has reduced them to a small fraction of the former amount; that disrespect for law was not created by prohibition; that there is no class vote of a coalition of Republican and Democratic 'regulars'."

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, explained that the minority members had agreed to the 20 per cent maximum rate only after part of their proposal to increase the reductions on incomes between $20,000 and $100,000 was accepted by the Republicans.

"Why did you surrender?" asked Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska. "Why surrender your right to tax men of great wealth a just levy of at least 25 per cent? Why didn't you stand on your principles as two years ago?"

Senator Simmons said that as it was a cut of $23,000,000 on incomes between $20,000 and $100,000 that was made on the demand of the Democrats.

"I wouldn't have had enough votes from any insurgent Republicans to put over any other rates as two years ago," he added.

Senator Norris guaranteed "enough votes if the Democrats would support it to put over the 25 per cent tax maximum rate on $100,000 incomes."

Senator Underwood, Democrat, Alabama, argued that by aggravating the surtax rates upward, the point of confiscation soon would be reached.

PACE NEW PROBLEMS

Washington, D. C.—(P)—Tackling the vital income tax schedule, the senate faced new problems Thursday in considering the tax reduction bill following pending against repeal of the inheritance tax and of the provision allowing publication of income tax payments.

Republican and Democratic members of the finance committee who Wednesday successfully defended their proposal to cut the maximum surtax rate from 40 to 20 per cent with corresponding cuts in the other rates of the graduated surtax scale, still faced opposition within both ranks. Approval of the 20 per cent maximum surtax rate, which would apply on the amount of all income in excess of $100,000, virtually assured enactment of this provision into law, since it also was adopted by the house.

The senate schedule adopted by the senate, however, adds $25,000,000 to the amount of reduction provided by the house schedule through greater cuts in the rates applying on incomes between $24,000 and $100,000.

ORDER PROBE OF RAILROAD HEAD WARD COMPANY DIES SUDDENLY

Special Investigation Is Ordered by Federal Trade Commission

Washington, D. C.—(P)—A special investigation has been ordered by the federal trade commission into the Ward Food Products corporation, recently organized to deal in meats used by the baking industry.

The investigation will be conducted by the legal department of the commission and will be apart from the economic investigation of the entire baking industry which has been in progress for several months as directed by a senate resolution. The general investigation will not be completed for several months and heretofore it had been the general view in commission circles that it would embrace the newly formed Ward company.

As ordered, the new investigation is distinct from one proposed in the Senate Wednesday by Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, who asked that a senate committee investigate all companies directly or indirectly controlled by Wm. B. Ward, who with his associates, organized the food products corporation.

Replying to that move, Mr. Ward wired Senator La Follette that he would welcome senatorial scrutiny of the project.

PINCHOT AND LEWIS CONFER ON COAL STRIKE

Philadelphia, Pa.—(P)—Interest in the anthracite strike situation Thursday turned to a scheduled conference here between Governor Pinchot and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America.

"Somebody has got to get action in the strike," the governor said in Harrisburg, in announcing that he would see Mr. Lewis in an effort to chart a future course of action that would have for its purpose "the return of the miners to work as soon as it is humanly possible." The governor has not disclosed what he has in mind and Mr. Lewis declined to comment.

A statement by Major W. W. Inglis, chairman of the operators joint conference upon his return to his home in Scranton Wednesday night, expressing belief that the situation could be remedied by "calm second thought" aroused interest among observers.

JEALOUS MAN GOES ON SHOOTING RAMPAGE

Waterloo, Ia.—(P)—George Kuhns, 57, of Ottumwa, Iowa, is held by police Thursday as the result of a shooting and stabbing rampage Wednesday night, during which Peter Kuhns of Waterloo his brother, was stabbed and Cecil B. Primmer, son-in-law of the elderly man, was shot. Kuhns, who according to relatives, assaulted his father-in-law several years ago with an axe, and attacked a minister some time ago in Albia, Iowa, is charged with the stabbing and shooting.

He attacked his brother and son-in-law when he thought they had been influential in alienating his wife's affections. His wife, Kuhns charged, had deserted him because of her love for his brother Peter.

SURTAX RATE ON TAX BILL UNDER FIRE

Senators Simmons and Norris Debate Over Compromise

Washington—(P)—The compromise on a 20 per cent maximum surtax rate in the revenue bill again came under fire in the senate Thursday. Although already approved by the legislation of a coalition of Republican and Democratic "regulars."

Senator Simmons of North Carolina, ranking Democrat on the finance committee, explained that the minority members had agreed to the 20 per cent maximum rate only after part of their proposal to increase the reductions on incomes between $20,000 and $100,000 was accepted by the Republicans.

"Why did you surrender?" asked Senator Norris, Republican, Nebraska. "Why surrender your right to tax men of great wealth a just levy of at least 25 per cent? Why didn't you stand on your principles as two years ago?"

Senator Norris guaranteed "enough votes if the Democrats would support it to put over the 25 per cent tax maximum rate on $100,000 incomes."

HOUSE PANS COOLIDGE ON STRIKE VIEWS

Representative Black, New York, Assails President for Attitude

Washington, D. C.—(P)—President Coolidge's attitude toward the coal controversy was assailed again Thursday by Representative Black, Democrat, New York, in a statement in reply to a recent one to the newspapers by the "official spokesman" at the white house.

"I see that the official spokesman of the white house, aka, Calvin Coolidge, does not like the way some of us talk about this president," said Mr. Black. "Well, we are mild in our criticisms compared to the maledictions heaped upon Cal. by the citizens without fuel."

"He told the people to use substitutes—and they are using substitutes for substitutes."

"He talks a couple of columns a day and to preserve his pose as a non-talker he insists that the papers say it was the official spokesman."

Mr. Black added that the president could force closure on the senate to obtain passage of the world court treaty, but could not get Chairman Park of the house commerce committee to hold hearings on bills designed to relieve the coal situation.

Representatives Rowan, another New York Democrat, Wednesday started circulating a petition to take a coal bill by him from the committee and bring it up in the house for consideration.

AIRPLANES START SEARCH FOR REGINALD DENNY

Los Angeles, Calif.—(P)—The Universal Film company chartered two airplanes to leave at dawn Thursday in search of Reginald Denny, film actor, and two other men who left San Francisco for a fishing trip to Encinitas, Lower California. No word has been received from the craft which was equipped with wireless, and officials of the film company think the actor and his two companions, Ben Hendricks and Hub Lloyd, might have met disaster in the storm that has been sweeping the Southern California coast for the past several days.

A fourth man was reported by a fisherman to be adrift without food or water on a barge off Point Dum, 20 miles north of Santa Monica.

Find Woman's Body In Furnace; Quiz Husband

Sioux City, Ia.—(P)—George Solomon, 73, will be questioned minutely Thursday regarding the finding of his 45-year old wife's body, partly burned, in the furnace of their home here Wednesday night. Two of Solomon's sons, Maurice and Lawrence, found their mother's body, the face and shoulders charred, wedged in the furnace door.

They hurried to the basement to look for their mother when Solomon finally told them after considerable evasion that their mother had been fatally burned when the drafts of the furnace had been improperly adjusted and a spurt of flame came from the furnace as she was fixing the fire. The boys, who are employed here, and the other seven children, all younger than Maurice and Lawrence, had previously asked their father about the mother not being at home. He told them, including the youngest children who came from school for lunch that "mother is away visiting."

Just as Lawrence and Maurice were leaving the house for the evening, Solomon called them back, and told them he had withheld the news of the death of their mother. He then recited how she had met accidental death at the furnace door.

He did not explain, however, how her body was jammed in the mouth of the heating plant and the boys asked police to take him in custody for questioning.

The children told police their mother and father had quarreled considerably lately.

No formal charge has been placed against Solomon early Thursday, but police intimated that unless he gives a much more satisfactory explanation of his wife's death some charge upon which he may be held for further questioning will be placed.

Physicians who examined Mrs. Solomon's body said she died of asphyxiation from the fumes of the furnace.

The upper of her body was burned almost beyond recognition.

FEAR 16 MEN TRAPPED IN MINE ARE DEAD

Rescue Workers Seal Entry to Shaft to Check Raging Flames

700 MINERS ESCAPE

Wives and Children Huddled Pennsylvania Mine in Desperation

Pittsburg, Pa.—(P)—Abandoning hope that any of the 16 miners unaccounted for after an explosion in the Morning mine late Wednesday were alive, rescue workers early Thursday sealed off the entry where they were entombed in order to smother a fire that has been raging for hours and make possible the recovery of the bodies. Twenty-one men were at work in that section, two miles back in the pit, when the blast occurred. Two escaped alive and three bodies have been recovered.

It was indicated that the section would remain sealed for at least 24 hours, during which it was expected that the fire would go out for lack of air.

Those trapped in the mine were fighting a fire at a point some two miles back from the entrance when the explosion occurred and this fire, still raging over a small section, was a hindrance to the work of rescue.

MANY MEN ESCAPE

The explosion which took place just after the day shift or about 700 miners had left, he mine late Wednesday was terrific in the opinion of the rescuers. This was evidenced by reports of the rescue workers, who said that a string of mine cars had been blown to pieces by the force of the blast.

Among those in the mine at the time of the explosion was Howard Earnest, general superintendent of Coal Company mines. His fate is unknown, as is that of George Travis, manager of the Morning mines. They were directing the fire fighting.

Wives and children of the 15 men were huddled about the top of the shaft in the wet heavy snow which started to fall late Wednesday and continued Thursday.

A temporary hospital was established in the mine supply house and a corps of nurses and doctors from Pittsburg waited to administer to any who might be brought out alive.

SCENT MURDER IN FIRE WHICH COST FIVE LIVES

Dowagiac, Mich.—(P)—The specter of murder and suicide arose Thursday from the ashes of the William Wilkinson farm home on Magician Lake when officers found the skulls of two of the five members of the family who lost their lives had been crushed.

The charred bodies of Wilkinson, 65, his wife 60, his son, Floyd, 27, his unmarried daughter, Glineth, 25, and the latter's three-day old baby were taken from the ruins of the house at daybreak. Examination showed the skulls of Glineth and Floyd had been crushed.

The theory of officers now is that the father, crazed by the birth of a girl to his daughter, killed her and her brother, then set fire to the dwelling.

DARROW PASSES HALF CENTURY AS MEMBER OF BAR

Chicago Lawyer Won Fame Before Twentieth Century Started

Clarence Darrow, who speaks in Lawrence Memorial chapel on Friday evening Feb. 12, has been identified with famous lawsuits since the beginning of the present century and there has hardly been a year since that time that he has not been identified with some prominent case in the courts.

Mr. Darrow was born at Kinsman, Ohio, in 1857 and was educated in the Ohio public schools. He was admitted to the bar in 1875. His worth as an attorney was early recognized for his younger years he was counsel for the Chicago and Northwestern railroad. He was back in 1891 and 1892 he was chief counsel for the striking coal miners of Pennsylvania. Later he was counsel in the Debs strike case. Took part in litigation against the gas trust of Chicago, and has represented labor in numerous cases involving injunctions and conspiracies. Among other notable cases of his career are the McNamara trial in Los Angeles and the noted trial of Mayer, Haywood and Pettibone for the murder of former Governor Steunenberg of Idaho.

Mr. Darrow was elected to the Illinois legislature in 1902 and long has been famous as an independent Democrat. He was regarded as the greatest orator in the party. His eloquence in trials has made him one of the greatest attractions in the legal world and his eloquence on the platform has assured him capacity wherever he consented to speak.

Tickets for the Darrow lecture here are selling for $1 each. The seat sale has started at Dellings drug store.

Assisting at the mass were Presbyter, Miss W. J. Fitzmaurice, pastor of St. Mary church; deacon, the Rev. George Schommer of Mackville, sub-deacon, the Rev. Adam Grill of Elcho, master of ceremonies, the Rev. William Klerman, assistant pastor of St. Mary church. The sermon was delivered by the Rev. J. R. McGinley of Manswa. Jeanette Butler, cousin of Father Butler acted as the bride and carried a burs and wreath. Flower girls were Cecelia Bauman and Mary Hughes. William Butler, brother of the newly ordained priest and Thomas Ryan were incense bearers and Thomas Butler carried the cross. Victor and Emmet Butler, brothers of Father Butler, were servers. Ushers included John Smithwick, John Martineau, Robert Flatley and Aloysius Hopp, students of St. Norbert college at De Pere.

After the service at the church a banquet was served at Columbia hall for about 200 relatives and immediate friends. The Christian Mothers of St. Mary church served the banquet.

Father Butler was graduated from St. Mary school in this city in 1915 and in 1918 graduated from the academic department of St. Norbert college. He received his B. A. degree from St. Norbert college in 1920 and entered the Premonstratensian order at De Pere at that time.

In recognition of their ordination to priesthood, Father Butler and the Rev. F. H. Clabots of New Franklin, another member of the St. Norbert faculty who was ordained Sunday, were greeted with a musical program Tuesday morning at St. Norbert college by students of the college. The college orchestra played selections at the beginning and close of the program and individual students who took part in the program were John Cushman, Henry Schmitt, Henry Hubert, Eddie Foxgrover, Frank Roe, Prof. John Gysbers and John Fleck. Father Clabots was to celebrate his first mass Thursday morning in St. Mary church at Humboldt which he attended in his boyhood.

She is survived by her widower two sisters, Mrs. Clara Vanderhoof, Marshfield, and Mrs. Ann Grant, Butternut. A brother, Martin MacDonald, Marshfield, four daughters, Mrs. Amy Cowie, Wibaux, Mont., Mrs. Leola Bushman Bowman, N. Dak., Mrs. Alice Larkee and Mrs. Marion Behn, Weyauwega, a son, Allan Goodman, and eight grandchildren.

The funeral took place from the Larkee home at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, with the Rev. M. Goldworthy of Parfreyville, formerly of Goodman, in charge. Interment was made in Oakwood cemetery.

The entire family was present at the funeral.

COUNCIL VOTES $2,620 BOOST IN CITY SALARIES

Raise Mayor's Pay to $1,800 and Aldermen's Compensation to $300

Addition of $2,620 to salaries of city officers was voted by the common council on Wednesday evening, when it increased the pay of the mayor, the aldermen, clerk, treasurer, assessor, engineer, commissioner of the poor, weighmaster, building inspector and plumbing inspector.

The "dope was upset" when the aldermen after having made an allowance in the budget last fall for increasing the mayor's salary from $1,200 to $2,500, voted now to fix the executive's compensation at $1,800.

While nearly half of the aldermen opposed a rise in salary for themselves, an increase of $60 a year was made effective for all incoming aldermen after the next election. The holdover aldermen will not benefit by the increase. The present compensation is $240 a year straight salary and 50 cents an hour extra for committee service. The average paid for committee service is about $200 a year. The council adopted the $300 a year salary plus committee service because it considered that to be the minimum paid to aldermen of cities the size of Appleton.

Other salaries increased were those of the assessor, clerk and treasurer from $2,300 to $2,500, building inspector and plumbing inspector from $1,500 to $1,600, engineer from $1,100 to $1,400, commissioner of the poor from $800 to $900, weighmaster from $100 to $500. Salaries left the same are Attorney, $2,000, physician,

FAT LIVESTOCK ON EXHIBITION AT FARMER WEEK

Governor Blaine Discusses State Resources at Banquet Thursday Night

Madison—(AP)—Fat cattle and round hogs were the cynosure of hundreds of Wisconsin farmers and their wives Thursday. It was "Livestock Dealers Day" at the annual observance of Farmers and Home Maker's week arranged by the University of Wisconsin, and the business of livestock breeding was the main subject of discussion and interest.

Coincident with the observance, the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders association was in session Thursday afternoon, with some of its members testing their skill against each other in the livestock judging contest.

Governor John J. Blaine, will make the principal address of the day, when he speaks before the annual banquet of Wisconsin farm folk on Thursday night at the Park hotel. The chief executive will speak on "The Undeveloped Resources of Wisconsin."

R. C. Pollock, Chicago, general manager of the National Livestock Meat Board discussed "Education as it affects the Livestock and Meat Industry" at the morning general session. The price trend in the livestock industry was reviewed by P. E. McNall, of the university college of agriculture.

Sectional meetings conducted by members of the university faculty in soil fertility, livestock farm economics, gas engines, horticulture, poultry and boys and girls leadership continue to arouse interest.

COOLIDGE HITS BACK
Calvin Coolidge is not as demonstrative or spectacular as the famous wielder of the big stick, but he is quite as stout of heart. He fears neither the lions that roar in the senate nor the wolves that howl on the outside. Had he lived in Puritan days he would have gone to church with a musket over his shoulder and never a tremble in his legs. The president takes a deal of punishment, but he knows when enough is enough. The attacks that have been made upon him and his administration in connection with debates on the world court, prohibition enforcement and national defense have irritated him to the point where he has struck back.
The president warns the country not to take too seriously the speeches in congress, which he says are largely political. This arouses the wrath of Senator Harrison, a proud Democrat of Mississippi allegiance, who says the remark is "unworthy of the president of the United States." If the senator means to challenge the propriety of the president's criticism, that is one thing, but if he means to deny its truthfulness, that is quite another.
If there is one speech in a hundred delivered in either the senate or the house that is not political, it would be difficult to discover it, particularly so in a national election year. There might be a question of taste as to whether it is good form for the president to tell the truth about congress, but for ourselves we cannot see that it is a breach of convention. John Quincy Adams used to have his say about congress, as did Jackson and Roosevelt, and a few other presidents, and the country was all the better for it. In such controversies the president is generally right. So he is in the present instance. The attacks on him in the senate debates thus far this session have been politics in as pure a form as even Emmanuel Kant could have wished.
Mr. Coolidge says the national defense is adequate, and there is little doubt that it is. So far as the approved and accepted policies of the nation go, both the army and navy are up to a reasonable standard of efficiency. When the president tells the country that the national defense, as provided for by congress, is in a satisfactory state, we may accept the statement. It probably is true that criticisms of the military establishment may be made legitimately at any time. Differences of opinion always exist. There are details of the service about which responsible authorities and heads do not agree. There are broad questions of policy over which there is a conflict of opinion. At one time or another there may be a shortage of this or that, the personnel may be below par or some deficiency may exist which in the near vision of those most concerned may appear disproportionate to its importance, and, therefore, be magnified beyond its seriousness. These observations apply to all branches of government service. There is always room for improvement; nothing is ever quite in a state of perfection.
Col. Mitchell thinks aviation is the one thing that can save America from its foes and assure its defense. It is what he most knows about, and he is apparently one of those enthusiasts who over-estimate values. The president and his advisors are in a better position to judge the requirements as well as the state of the national defense than an expert in any one line. It seems to be well understood that aviation has lagged somewhat and presumably it is going to be improved, but it is only a part of the great scheme of national defense upon which the country depends for its security and which the president assures us is all right. We think we can rely upon what the president says.

Mr. Coolidge does not like the attitude of those who have belittled America's support of the world court. He thinks it is a step of the greatest importance and expects it to prove of real usefulness in bettering world conditions and contributing to peace. This is the broad, optimistic, healthy view and here again he rises above his critics. So also does he when he challenges the declaration that our affiliation with the world court means our entrance into the League of Nations. No such conclusion is, of course, warranted, and the president realizes, as the country should and doubtless does, that American membership in the League depends entirely upon a national conviction that it would result in a happier and more stable, peaceful world. Mr. Coolidge is an able defender of his administration. We like to see the president stand up for himself and his policies. He is not only convincing, but the country likes him for it.
AMERICAN MOVIES IN CHINA
Producers of the motion pictures have it in their power to foster a strong, friendly spirit for America among the people of all countries. They have it in their power to convey to people a favorable interpretation of the American government and nation. All countries in the world take films made by American producers. The pictures are the same which are exhibited in the United States, except that they are altered slightly to conform to mental habit elsewhere. The language and phraseology of legends are changed, and, in particular, the pace of the movement is slackened. People of other lands are slower in their mode of living than we are, and the speed of the motion picture is measured to their manner of reading, in fact, of seeing and observing.
The Chinese government requests the American cinema interests to build a number of modern theatres in China. To a population of 100,000,000 there are only eighty houses. Sun Nung An-Young, of Peking, a former student in Columbia university, director of the Chinese government bureau of economic information, is in the United States to further this request. After a visit to Hollywood, he is conferring with Will H. Hays, president of the Motion Picture Producers and Exhibitors of America. Mr. An-Young says the Chinese like American pictures. The movies are causing Oriental women to copy the style of dress of the American women and to furnish their homes like the American. This will give us additional Chinese trade.
A large percentage of the pictures do credit to the United States and distribute right ideas about the world concerning us. On the other hand, a larger percentage is decidedly discreditable. Our motion pictures can do more than the state department and the big interests in cultivating understanding, trade and good will for America throughout the world. How can we regulate the outflow of films so that they will inform the world properly concerning us?
Miss Gervie Baronti, a young Italian-Egyptian woman, who has lived in China for eight years, and who is now in the United States, says that the Chinese prefer our slapstick comedy and do not care for our society drama. The Oriental mind, she declares, is scandalized by the divorce plots and sex plays; it infers that the Americans believe in free love, and there is no sanctity in the American home, no secure bonds of affection and honor in the American family. The frequency of divorce in motion pictures leads Chinese and Japanese to the conclusion that love and marriage are esteemed but lightly in the United States.
We may direct and control public opinion and implant our political, social and economic ideals throughout the world according to our standards of living, working and thinking. We have it in our power to republish the world, and to make the world admire and respect us. If we wish the world to think well of us, we must exhibit ourselves at our best in the picture plays which we export.

We just can't figure out why some rich men are skinny.
We have no scientific data, but we always will believe the first powder puff was a marshmallow.
Why don't women catch pneumonia? That's easy. Less clothes they wear the warmer they are.
College boys are considerate. The loose clothes they wear makes it easier for their friends to understand them.

A CURED CASE OF CVD
It is time to get down to brass tacks and publish a few cures of arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries) or the heart muscles degeneration commonly associated with it or the whole thing considered as a general condition. Cardiovascular degeneration, for short called CVD. I have intimated repeatedly that hardening of the arteries may be cured if taken in time. I have held out the possibility or hope of a cure of incipient CVD and I have endeavored to explain here precisely what incipient hardening of the arteries or cardiovascular degeneration is and how the fool and the wise man, respectively, acts when he has it.
In order to cite an actual cure I am going to draw on the records of a family doctor who devotes careful attention to periodic health examination as a part of his general private practice. This doctor's office has an atmosphere which ought to inspire confidence in the doctor's skill and efficiency; there is no imposing machinery, but one finds the doctor equipped with everything from measuring rod to microscope to carry out every essential part of the health examination—and that is something which too many physicians of some pretension are not prepared to do. In recent years many purely commercial interests have invaded the medical field, offering divers and sundry technical services for stated prices, and although such services are notoriously unreliable, some doctors who lack good training or equipment are in the habit of assigning to these commercial agencies a considerable share of what should be medical work. This compromise accounts for much of the erratic diagnosis of the day.
One cure was the case of a railroad engineer, aged 51 years, who on his first examination showed several defects and whose blank read "early arteriosclerosis." This man was rather proud of his perfect health, as he called it, and he laughed at the doctor's efforts to find anything wrong with him. In fact he submitted to the examination only because the company required certain employees to have periodic health test—a most commendable requirement which ought to be universal, at least for persons who are responsible for the lives of others, as engineers are. Among the findings in this engineer's case were (1) overweight, (2) a young corporation, (3) increase of systolic pressure, (4) two or three hyaline casts, (5) delayed recovery of heart stability after 15 deep knee flexions, and (6) poor color perception.
The doctor said the man's response to exertion sounded like an engine hauling a big load up a long grade. The engineer, like many of his occupation, imagined he got sufficient exercise pulling the throttle and climbing over his engine. The doctor, however, persuaded him to do some regular gymnastic exercises, especially exercises for the trunk muscles. He explained to the engineer how harmful it is to overtake a good engine, and suggested a few stunts to help the man cut down on the calories. The doctor thought the poor color perception might be due to overindulgence in tobacco and advised the engineer to worry along on not more than two small pipefuls a day. The engineer was vain of his athletic figure and the doctor appealed to that vanity by assuring the man he could reduce his expanding waist measure if he would do the exercises regularly. The engineer did reduce his waist, also his blood pressure. On the third examination, made about six months later, the engineer passed muster, every one of the six points against him having been wiped out. I call that a cure of arteriosclerosis.
QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
Apple Sauce From Washington
You probably did not see the recent newspaper item telling of the unusually high prevalence of pneumonia in Washington, D. C., in December and January, which the district health officer ascribes to the scarcity of coal. (H. J. E.)
Answer—I saw the item, but from the way it was boxed I assumed it was meant to be apple sauce. Health officers serve a good deal of apple sauce; you see, they have to get rid of the apples without keeping the doctor away.
Chop Suey
Heated argument in our office as to the nutritive value and healthfulness of chop suey, of course I mean when eaten with rice. (W. R.)
Answer—The dish is wholesome enough, and about equivalent to potato in nutritive value.

AMERICA YEARLY TORNADO LOSSES ARE $8,000,000
Mississippi Was Worst Cyclone State in Last Eight Years, Report Says
BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN
Washington, D. C.—During the last eight years there were 752 tornadoes in the United States that caused an aggregate property loss of more than $62,000,000 and the loss of 1,929 lives. Arkansas led all the states in the number of these storms, while Illinois led in the total property loss. Indiana and Illinois suffered the storm that caused the greatest number of fatalities—100.
These statistics are announced by Herbert C. Hunter, of the United States weather bureau, as summarizing the data gathered since 1916 when the weather bureau resumed the systematic collection of tornado statistics for the entire country. The result for the 8-year period can now be compared with the conclusions reached by Finley, about 40 years ago, and by Henry, another expert, over 25 years ago.
The tornado is a wicked storm that in this country seems to prefer the Middle West as the scene of its depredations. It is cyclonic in its movements, but, instead of being 1000 miles in diameter like the continental cyclone, or 100 miles like the tropical hurricane, it usually has a diameter of gyration of only about 100 to 300 yards.
SPEED TERRIFIC
Its speed of rotation is said to be so terrific that no instruments have ever been held together long enough to measure its velocity, which must equal that of a rifle bullet. Reputable and reliable persons have reported wheat straws that were shot by the wind of a tornado at least half an inch into the touch body of an oak tree, and in another instance a two by four pine scantling was driven through five-eighths of an inch of solid iron.
As a rule tornadoes occur in the spring of the year, in the southeast quadrant of a cyclone, when the temperature and humidity are high. Their direction is nearly always toward the northeast and at the height of their destructiveness they mow a path like a gigantic, irresistible scythe. The traditions of their freaks are innumerable.
In gathering its data the climatological service assigned a certain area, usually a State, to each of the 45 directors. Tornado information, like much other material, is assembled and passed upon first by these directors, then the compiling is finished at Washington.
HAS ADVANTAGE
This system has a marked advantage over the practices of the earlier periods in the employment of well-distributed section directors, who are likely to learn of storms in remote districts which would easily escape the notice of a single worker trying to cover the whole country. A considerable disadvantage, however, is that the final counts for the States depend largely upon the diverse judgments of dozens of different men, some of them very conservative in classifying a puzzling storm as a tornado.
In the entire country from 1916 to 1923 there were, as stated, 753 storms classified as tornadoes, and average of 94 a year. The annual count was greatest in 1917, with a total of 121, while 64 was the smallest number reported for any one year. The average number is appreciably larger than the annual average reported by Finley and Henry 40 and 25 years ago, respectively.

TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR

The Question Box
General Robert E. Lee said: "The thorough education of people is the most efficacious means of promoting the prosperity of the Nation." These words of the distinguished Southern General are none the less true now than when he spoke them. Our Washington Information Bureau is one of the greatest agencies for the distribution of free information and educational data in the world. Its services are free to readers of this paper. Q. Why is it that some people insist that poinsettia does not have a red flower? J. K.
A. It is a confusion of terms. The scarlet leaves of a poinsettia plant are not part of the flowers but surround the flower proper.
Q. If a deer has a set of antlers with four points on each side it is called a four point deer or an eight point deer? J. S. C.
A. The biological survey says that such a deer is described as an eight point deer.
Q. What are the ingredients used in perfumes that are of animal origin? M. L.
A. The principal ones are musk, civet, ambergris, and castor.
Q. Is England part of the continent of Europe? E. S.
A. England is actually a part of the European continent, that is, it is a part of the continental shelf. The English channel and the North sea are merely depressions which were filled in many centuries ago. Originally, England was actually connected with the mainland.
Q. What is the origin of the expression "Go by the board"? W. E. G.
A. It was a nautical expression, meaning to go over the side of a vessel, as in the case of a smart broken off short.
Q. In the exhibition of the National Academy of Design is a picture of Abbeys called "The Penance of Eleanor." What is the story depicted? J. T. M.
A. The painting of Eleanor, Duchess of Gloucester, by Edwin Abbey, illustrated an episode in the life of the part 2, of King Henry VI. The King had just married Margaret of France. The Duke of Gloucester was the King's protector, and Eleanor dreamed a dream in which "Henry and Dame Margaret knelt to me and on my head did sit the diadem." She was ambitious both for herself and her husband, and ambition carried her too far. Offending the Queen, she played into the hands of her husband's enemies and was charged with disloyalty, tried and convicted. Because of her noble birth, Eleanor was not put to death, but was obliged to do three days' penance and banishment to the Isle of Man. Abbey's painting depicts the street scene.
Q. How long, wide, and deep is the River Jordan? H. K.
A. The River Jordan is 200 miles in length, although by a direct route it would flow but 65 miles. The river bed varies from 1/4 to 2 miles in width. Except at the flood season, which is in March, the river is comparatively shallow. In some places it is from two to three feet deep. During the rainy season, the Jordan has been known to rise 4 to 5 feet, and fall as rapidly. Its course and size are approximately as they were in New Testament times.
Q. What kind of vinegar should be used in horse radish? J. J. M.
A. It is essential that white wine vinegar be used to keep horse radish white. Cider vinegar always darkens it.
Q. Are there any snakes that are apparently immune to the venom of other reptiles? L. T. S.
A. The king snakes are entirely immune to snake poison and are, therefore, effective in destroying rattlesnakes. Despite their hostility toward other species they show a very mild nature towards man.
Q. Is the word "elemosynary" in the Bible? A. S.
A. It does not appear in the Bible. It is of Greek derivation and means "of or pertaining to charity or almsgiving."
Q. What is the full name of the King of Spain? A. J. C.
A. The King of Spain is a member of the Bourbon family. His full name is Alfonso Leon Ferdinand Marie Jacques Isidore Pascal Antoine Bourbon.
Q. What was the sign of surrender of an Indian tribe following warfare? D. F.
A. The bureau of American ethnology says that the sign of submission or surrender of an Indian tribe following warfare, in observed cases arms are laid or thrown down.
Q. What seals are classed as Alaskan seals? G. W. W.
A. Alaskan seals are fur seals of the sea bear family found in the Behring sea region, Cape Horn and the Shetland island region. The northern species comprise Alaskan, Victorian or Northwest, Copper Island, Robben Island and Japanese seals. The southern species comprise Shetland, Lobo Island and Cape seals. The variations in the qualities and size of skins are due to differences in age, sex and location of habitat.
Q. How much does it cost a farmer to feed a work horse? L. R. S.
A. Under ordinary farm conditions the cost of feeding a work horse per day is approximately 22 cents.

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRES-COTT TO THE LITTLE MAR-QUISE, OR THE SECRET DRAWER—CONTINUED

This letter from Melville Sartoris I am going to place with mine in the little secret drawer. It is too beautiful to destroy, yet I am not sure that I should not destroy it. I wonder if ever before any woman occupied such a place in a man's heart. Melville Sartoris has told me in this letter that he loved me, and he intimates that more than all else in the world he wants to know if I love him. And yet such a queer bias there is in his mind, he tells me that he would not love me any more if he should discover that I had transferred the love that he feels I have for my husband, to him.

You see, he has been calling me his Madonna of the Snows—a very subtle compliment, my dear, which means the purest and best of living women, who is ever cold, and invites nothing but respect and reverence from the men about her.

In his contradictory way he tells me that his heart is burning up with love for me, and explains that he would not say this to me, only that he never expects to look upon my face again, never expects to hear from me.

It's a queer situation, is it not? Sometimes I think it isn't true that he is only taking this way of plucking my curiosity so that I will keep him in my thoughts continuously. He has never done anything like any other man since I have known him. He is either the most proficent and expert squire of dames that ever lived, or else he is really in love with me.

You see, little Marquise, he has the reputation of being the most consummate flirt, with more broken hearts to his credit than almost any other man of modern times, and yet he has contrived to make me conceited enough to believe that whatever may be his past, he has found in me something he has been searching for all his life.

Isn't it strange, my dear little Marquise, that he has made himself believe that finding what he seeks will be to lose it, and forever losing it, he will call it his.

The day before he left on a kind of modern day "Trail" expedition, he gave me the most elaborate entertainment in this country. He told me that he had never met a woman who was honest, that even his mother had betrayed his father, and his wife had married him only to get enough money to go away with the man she really loved.

I felt sorry for him, little Marquise—so sorry that I put out both hands to him, and as he bent to press his lips to my palm, Jack stood in the doorway. For a moment he was intensely jealous, but the next day, after he had nearly lost me, he seemed to fall in love with me all over again. Since then he has been very moody, sometimes extremely loving, and others very grouchy.

You know, little Marquise, that I'm not in love with Melville Sartoris. I'm only curious about him. I wonder if there are other men like him in the world? I wonder if I shall ever see him again? He certainly has an effect upon me that no other man has ever had, not even Jack.

I am really glad he is sailing to the Antipodes, for I am afraid I would see too much of him.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray.

Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 15 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and

Adventures Of The Twins

SNIFF WHISKERS ASKS QUESTIONS

At last the Hidy Go Land Express reached Tin Can Town and everybody got out.

Poor Mister Havalook looked more worried than ever, for he said, the rats always made him nervous. "One never can tell what they are going to do," he said to the Twins. "Rats are so independable."

At that very minute a large gray rat in tomato-colored velvet came up and bowed.

"I'm Sniff Whisker, the mayor of Tin Can Town," he introduced himself. "Is this an excursion?"

"Oh, no! No indeed," said Mister Havalook. "We're after a thief. Did you see anybody acting suspicious?"

At this Mister Sniff Whisker blew a whistle and twenty policemen rats came rushing up.

"Take the testimony," said Sniff Whisker. "There has been a robbery committed."

"I'll say there was," squeaked the police captain, all done up in brass buttons and a cap. Someone stole my cheese out of the toe of an old boot where I had it hidden. It was fine cheese all green and crusty and

"Hold on there," said Sniff Whisker. "This isn't your party. Describe the thief," he said to Mister Havalook. "Name, age, weight, complexion, occupation, nationality, and all the rest of his history."

"Oh, do I have to do that?" begged poor Mister Havalook. "If I do I'll just turn her against me, too, and he'll have enough enemies as it is."

"It's a her—take that down," commanded Sniff Whisker to the others. So all the rate policemen took out little note books and wrote down. "It's a her."

"And her name is—is—" went on poor Mister Havalook.

But here the Crinoline Doll interrupted. "I'll tell you all about it. Her name is Pags and she's six months old if she's a day, and her complexion is musty and her hair's American and her occupation is stealing other people's clothes off the wash-line."

"If you could run as fast as you can talk, young lady," said Sniff Whisker. "You certainly would win all the races. But fortunately all my people write shorthand so they can keep up with you."

Right here there was a loud shriek for help and everybody turned to see what was happening. What they saw was enough to make you gasp and stand on end. It was the Turkey Gobbler, and down his red throat the Gingerbread Man was about to disappear. Indeed nothing but his one foot was to be seen right then."

Nancy stamped her foot—it was all she could think of to do, but it had the desired effect, for the gobbler gave a scared hop up into the air and forgot to swallow. When he got his

Vapors stop Colds

VAPORS reach a cold directly because they are breathed right into the air passages and lungs. It is for this reason that Vicks Vapo-Rub brings such quick relief. When rubbed over throat and chest at bedtime—

It is vaporized by the body heat and inhaled, while you sleep, right to the affected parts, loosening the phlegm and easing the difficult breathing.

At the same time it acts through the skin (like a poultice or plaster) "drawing out" the pain and soreness.

Most colds yield by morning to this double action of Vicks.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray.

Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients, for only 15 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and

Out flew the engineer of the Hidy Go Land Express and the day was saved.

"What are you doing in Hidy Go Land, sir?" demanded Mister Havalook. "We are having trouble enough without you."

"Yes, and Thanksgiving and Christmas are over," said Nick. "You are safe enough now."

The gobbler gobbled. "Turkeys are the hardest people in the world to keep at home," he said. "They love to go off and hide. I'm no different from the others. Besides when I come here by the back way, I often find tid-bits."

"Did you see anything of the Rag Doll?" asked Miss Crinoline.

"Yes, I passed her just going into the drain."

"My skirt will be ruined!" shrieked the Crinoline Doll wildly.

MALAY WOMEN STILL WEAR SIMPLE GOWNS

BY HORTENSE SAUNDERS

NEA Service Writer.

New York—If you really want to learn distinction in dress and perfection in line, don't go to Paris, go to Malay, urges Mrs. Carveth Wells, wife of the English lecturer and explorer who is now in this country.

"I have been in practically every country and have seen the native costumes of every land but never have I seen women who had so mastered the art of extreme simplicity and extreme sophistication as have the women of Malay," she told me.

"They have convinced me that we are all wrong in changing our styles from season to season. They have been wearing precisely the same cut of costume for hundreds of years, and they have mastered it."

"A simple straight coat, and a length of cloth that ties in front with a particular knot and becomes a skirt—a sarong and badju—constitute their uniform, but they make it more distinctive than Poirat's most extreme models."

"And despite the fact that all women wear gowns of the same cut, they all achieve an originality we of New York and Paris yearn for."

The monotony of cut is quite offset by the marvelous colors and fabrics they use, the colorful embroidery batik work, and the incrustated jewels they use, she explained.

Mrs. Wells spent six years in the jungles of Malay, accompanying her husband on an engineering trip, and she penetrated many of the dense portions of the interior of that peninsula where a woman had never before ventured.

"I went there with a certain temerity about snakes, and after six years in the jungle, I became so adept at killing them, that now there is no sport I enjoy more than killing snakes. I even had a tilt once with a king cobra, in which I came out the victor."

THEIR WEAKNESS

Though we might learn about clothes from the Malay lady, we could teach her something about make-up and cosmetics, Mrs. Wells believes.

"The Malay women use more make-up than any women in the world—except Americans," she laughed. "and if they could get hold of the fingernail enamel, the conventional lipsticks and the varieties of paints and pomades that are available in American shops, they would probably be the happiest women in the world."

Kaukauna — Prizes amounting to $200 will be given away by the women in charge of the midwinter fair at Kaukauna, Feb. 19 and 20. This was decided Wednesday afternoon when the committees of Kaukauna Women's club met in the library building. John Coppes general chairman, attended the meeting to assist in planning the details for the fair.

KROMER OFFERED JACKSON SQUAD

Baseball Manager May Take Over Leadership of Team in Tennessee

Kaukauna — G. J. "Stormy" Kromer, former Kaukauna baseball manager, has been offered the management of the Jackson, Tenn. baseball club. Mr. Kromer says he will take over the Jackson club providing he is not offered a better proposition within the next fifteen days.

Mr. Kromer managed the Blytheville class D baseball and he was required to give a $2500 bond to bind his promise. By the middle of the season, however, so many of the regular players were either injured or ill that baseball was not a paying proposition, so Mr. Kromer decided the best policy would be to sell some of the players. He did this, but the trustees of the ball club interpreted this as a deliberate attempt to ruin the club. They sued Mr. Kromer for his bond or the entire control of all his rookie players. Kromer decided he would rather have his players, so he contested the lawsuit. Finally a compromise was arrived at by which Kromer paid the trustees $1,355 and he retained control of his players.

Mr. Kromer is well known in the valley as an organizer of home talent ball clubs. Pocan and Lamers, former Kaukauna ball players are two of his rookie players. They played with Blytheville last year.

KIMBERLY TEAM WINS FROM TWENTY-FIVES

Kaukauna — The Kimberly Independent ran away with the Twenty-five club basketball team in a five game series. The final score was 20-10. The locals were outplayed in every department of the game and did not threaten the up-river team at any time. The Independent showed snappy teamwork at times when they would take the ball down the floor and net a basket. Their defense was so tight that the locals had to make most of their throws from the center of the floor. Hopkins played the best game for the Kimberly team and Winge scored six at the ten points for the 25's.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food acids, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bismarated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion. adv.

Appleton

PROPERTY OWNERS PROTEST STREET WIDENING

HUGE EXPENSE INVOLVED IN COUNCIL PLAN

Pettibone-Peabody Co. and Citizens Bank Declare They Will Lose Heavily

Two protests were heard at the meeting of the common council Wednesday night against the proposed widening of Appleton and Oneida-sts. between Lawrence-st and Franklin-st. Damages to the extent of $25,000 in the case of the two properties alone were estimated to result from the project if it is carried through.

Those remonstrating against the widening projects were H. W. Tuttrup, speaking for the Citizens National bank, of which he is president, and J. D. Steele, head of the Pettibone-Peabody company. The council heard the men but took no action, since the paving projects were not up for discussion Wednesday night. The arrival of the plans for S. Cherry-st pavement which had been submitted to the planning commission is awaited before contractors' proposals will be advertised for. In anticipation of this, the council adjourned to next Wednesday evening.

HEAVY LOSER

The heaviest loser through the widening project will be the Pettibone-Peabody company. Mr. Steele in his remarks to the council dwelt not so much upon the traffic problems involved by cutting off the corner at W. College-ave and N. Appleton-st and taking off three feet of the sidewalk as upon the effect of the project upon the sub-structure of the store underneath the sidewalk and pavement.

For the last 50 years, Mr. Steele said, the store has maintained below the sidewalk a highly developed salesroom. Other substructures are a heating system, sprinkler system, a tunnel to the annex across the street, telephone lines, water and other mains.

After having been in consultation with a contractor for a day and a half, the Appleton merchant obtained an estimate of the possible cost of the reconstruction of the walls under the walks and other work which he said would be $14,457. A total of 225 1/2 running feet of sidewalk, abutting the company's property would have to be torn up and laid again. When the cost of the changes in the plumbing and other services are included, the loss to the company would be approximately $20,000, Mr. Steele said. He surmised that the cost of the two projects to the city and to the property owners would be about $150,000.

TRY OTHER METHODS

If the circumstances require it, no one will object to "a major surgical operation," as he described the project, but if it is not known whether it will be of any benefit, some of the "old-fashioned" remedies ought to be tried first, he counseled.

Three factors, he said, should be considered: First, the possibility that the Wisconsin Traction, Light, Heat and Power company may in a few years abandon its tracks on College-ave and thus relieve traffic congestion at this corner to some extent; secondly, the probability that state highway 15 may be rerouted to another street or to skirt the city entirely; thirdly, the likelihood that a sensible unoppressive parking ordinance would solve the problems of congestion in a marked degree.

The Citizens National bank through its board of directors sent a remonstrance against the widening of Oneida-st. Mr. Tuttrup's remarks explained the board's reasons for objecting.

The bank president said that the reasons had both a financial and a traffic side. He put the matter up to the council to name their reasons for desiring the project in the light of the expense involved. He said he had not heard very strong arguments from anyone in support of it. He also expressed a doubt whether the city could legally assess the property owners a second time after once having made a permanent improvement. To undertake it, he believed, the city would have to assume the entire expense itself.

LOSE $5,000

Admitting that he was speaking from a selfish viewpoint but also as an interested citizen of Appleton, he called attention to the coal tanks, ash pit and storeroom underneath the sidewalk which would have to be rebuilt if three feet were taken off the present walk. This expense to the bank would be about $5,000, he said he had been informed by a contractor.

"The bank can afford to pay the bill, if it is true," Mr. Tuttrup commented. "But that doesn't make it one bit more right than if it were some individual less able to pay, unless the project were absolutely justified."

The remonstrant also said that the bank has in abeyance plans for the addition of four more stories to the building. These plans have cost the bank $15,000, and it would not care to go to the expense of changing them, as the widening project would necessitate. The plans call for a main entrance on N. Oneida-st. By taking off three feet from the sidewalk, the city would be compelling future tenants of the building to step from the building almost into the street.

Turning to the traffic problems involved, Mr. Tuttrup reminded the aldermen that traffic coming from the west on College-ave already is barred from turning to the north on N. Oneida-st on account of the "no left turn" law. This already relieves some of the former congestion. The street, however, is no more congested than

TRIANGLE CLUB WILL SPONSOR MOVIE SHOW

Plans for sponsoring the motion picture, "The Enchanted Hill," for a club benefit will be made at the regular meeting of the Sophomore Triangle club Thursday evening at the Y. M. C. A. The meeting will be preceded by a supper.

The picture is to appear at the Fischer's Appleton theatre on Feb. 12 and 13. A system of distributing tickets for the picture among the other clubs of the association will be worked out. Work on the world outlook campaign sponsored by the club and routine business will complete the meeting. Frank Sherwood of the state department of health who has been speaking to boys of the local schools for the last two weeks, will be a guest of the club.

Mrs. H. Woempner of Chicago, who has been spending the last ten days with her daughter, Mrs. Edward Mumm, returned home Wednesday. Mrs. Mumm and children returned with her and will visit in Chicago for a few weeks.

streets of the same width in other cities, such as Oshkosh, Fond du Lac and Green Bay, which bear from two to four times the traffic, he said. Oneida-st has far from exhausted its capacity, he argued. If the traction company abandons its interurban line, as it has been intimated, the congestion will be still more relieved, as the motorists would then have a 36-foot roadway entirely to themselves, he brought out.

CAUSE MORE TRAFFIC

Rather than improve traffic condition on Oneida-st, the widening project would only encourage traffic to move this way, Mr. Tuttrup warned. Just as the cyclone fence at Lincoln school encourages motorists to speed by the school now. As long as the fire department is located on N. Oneida-st, traffic on this street should not be encouraged by widening the street, he advised.

"We have reached a point," the speaker added, "where pedestrian traffic has been made secondary to motor traffic. But I say that pedestrians are just as much entitled to safety as the motorist, and the present width of the sidewalk on this street is necessary to pedestrian safety. To change it would be an injustice."

NURSE RESIGNS TO TAKE UP WORK WITH PAPER FIRM

Miss Florence Whipple Quits as City Nurse to Go With Kimberly-Clark Co.

Miss Florence Whipple, for the last two years city nurse of Appleton, Wednesday night tendered her resignation of that position in order to take up welfare work for the Kimberly-Clark company.

The council accepted the resignation without comment, as it was quite generally known that Miss Whipple would give up the work. The resignation becomes effective Feb. 16, which will leave a vacancy in that office for several days and possibly weeks. The council will receive applications from other nurses for the position. The salary as fixed Wednesday evening is $1,800 a year. The automobile expense, if any, are to be borne by the nurse herself.

An ordinance to vacate the west 14 feet of S. Lawrence-st at the Riverside Fibre and Paper company office was introduced Wednesday night, ordered published and referred to the ordinance committee. At the same time, Feb. 17 or the next council meeting, was set as the date for a public hearing on the subject. The city a few years ago agreed to vacate the portion of the street in exchange for the east 15 feet of the street. The paper mill office is already located on the portion still claimed by the city.

E. C. Elsch, whose saloon on Wisconsin-ave had been raided and who pleaded guilty recently to violation of the prohibition laws, was deprived of his license Wednesday.

Complaint was made by Alderman Wenzel Hassmann of the naugher in which freight trains at the N. State-st crossing block up the street for a much longer period than the five minutes allowed by law. This blocks up traffic and encourages children to crawl through underneath the cars, as he had himself seen, he said. The police will be notified to put a stop to the railroad's practice.

A. C. Denny, Lawrence college athletic director and basketball coach sprained an ankle while playing volleyball Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A.

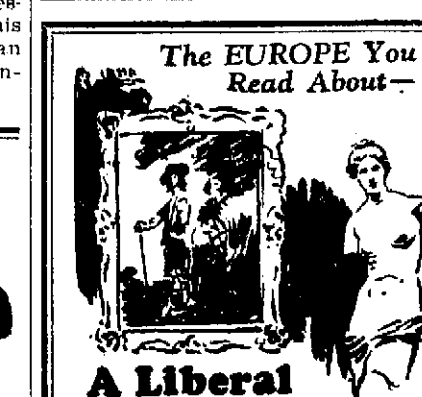

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. S. J. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. START CLEARING LAND TITLES FOR 9 MILLION ACRES

Land Commissioner Has Completed Task of Untangling Fox River Valley Patents

Madison — (P) — Having untangled the patents to the Fox and Wisconsin rivers improvement lands, the officers of the board of public land commissioners is planning to clear up title records of some 8,000,000 acres of railroad lands Matt Lampert, chief clerk, said Wednesday.

Mr. Lampert's brother, Representative Florian Lampert of Oshkosh, has introduced a bill in congress, seeking the transfer of old records in the land office, to the Wisconsin authorities for use in the contemplated work. In some instances, land granted to railroads years ago was transferred several times by the federal and state governments and private interests, resulting in confusion, Mr. Lampert said.

The land commissioners' office has begun distributing patents to the Fox and Wisconsin rivers improvement lands to counties, for recording.

The work resulted from irregularities in the sale of the land, nearly one million acres, more than half a century ago. The lands originally were granted by the government to the Fox and Wisconsin Rivers Improvement company. When the company failed to put through its improvement projects, trustees were appointed in 1851, and authorized to sell the land. They were to report the sales to the land department every two weeks, but failed to meet this requirement.

Mr. Lampert found, in several years of painstaking work, that 2,067 patents remained to be issued, and 3,344 old patents were undelivered to the owners of the land.

Of the former group, the land department has issued and mailed 16 to Marathon county, 5 to Sauk county and 30 to Trempealeau county. Others awaiting the signature of the commissioners of public lands include: Adams county 3; Brown, 178; Columbia, 88; Chippewa 7; Clark, 18; Columbia, 10; Crawford, 10; Door, 21; Kewaunee, 71; Portage, 130; Winnebago, 239.

Old patents have been delivered recently to: Dodge, 167; Douglas, 18; Florence, 5; Kenosha, 12; Kaukauna, 7; Langlade, 18; Marathon, 7; Oneida, 48; Pierce, 41; Price, 10; Racine, 21; Rock, 88; Sauk, 65; Taylor, 8 and Trempealeau 6.

The patents were sent to the council.

Why more and more women turn to Flake White

A perfect laundry soap—with a TONIC for the hands

Think of it—a pure gentle soap—that launders all things perfectly—and actually benefits your hands every time you use it because it includes a natural skin tonic.

No wonder it delights women! A laundry aid and a beauty aid in one! Why rub when the gentle 10-second lather simply whisks dirt out of sheer stockings, gay house dresses, dainty woollens and coarser things, and leaves them bright, fresh, clean, sweet.

These things cost a lot of money, too. Isn't it wise to use this safe soap that gives them extra life?

Don't delay getting this better soap. Your pocketbook will thank you. U. S. Government statistics show that 1/5 of your income goes for clothes; and when you figure in bed linen, curtains, blankets, etc., it's really more than that. Use this soap to protect them.

MENASHA DEBATE SQUAD DEFEATS WAUSAU TALKERS

Negative Team Triumphs Over Visitors — Affirmative Team Visits Waupaca

Menasha — Menasha high school debating team won its first official debate from the strong Wausau high school team Wednesday evening by a vote of 2 to 1 of the judges at the high school auditorium. The winning team consisted of Lucile Schwartz, Henry Kresock and Helen Jones. Wausau was represented by Maxwell Boyce, Ronald Kannenberg and Edgar McLaughlin.

The question debated was, Resolved, That congress should be granted the power by federal amendment to regulate the employment of all persons under 18 years of age. The home team upheld the negative. The judges were Attorney E. J. Dempsey, Oshkosh; O. F. Nixon, principal of East high school, Green Bay; and R. J. Barnes, instructor in Oshkosh high school, Superintendent O. H. Henske presided.

Both teams showed careful and thorough preparation. It was the first debate in which the local high school had participated in more than ten years. Determination, grit and willingness to work on the part of the home team outweighed the experience of the visiting team. The local debaters were coached by Lester Lomans, a high school instructor.

The affirmative team of Menasha high school goes to Waupaca Friday night, where it will meet the high school team of that city. The same question will be debated.

Mrs. Goddard testified that her husband resorted to physical violence in his treatment of her, used vile and abusive language to her, did not support her and the family, and was habitually drunk. His present whereabouts are unknown.

ONLY ONE CHANGE IN SALARIES OF CITY OFFICERS

Engineers Pay Is Reduced from $2,400 to $1,800 a Year

Neenah—Salaries of city officials were unchanged Wednesday evening by city council, with exception of the city engineer whose salary was decreased from $2,400 to $1,800 per annum. The mayor will receive $200 per annum; aldermen $150 per annum; city clerk, who is also secretary of board of health, board of public works and secretary and clerk of the water commission, $2,400; office assistant, $900; city treasurer, $1,200; city engineer $1,800; city attorney, $720; city physician $400; poor commissioner, $480; street commissioner $1,500; assessors, for actual service per day each $5; board of review for actual service per day each $5; board of registry for actual service per day each $4; inspectors and clerks of election per day each $4; salaried clerks election, per day each $4; salaried weights and measures per month $25.

Alderman Larson of the Fourth ward started a discussion which resulted in the finance committee being authorized to call upon A. K. Ellis in an effort to speed up action by the railroad commission. A. H. Schmidt, chairman of the finance committee objected and argued that a letter addressed to Mr. Ellis asking if he would use his efforts in speeding up the report would do as much as a call from the committee, to which the mayor stated that the highway commission, also awaiting the report, had written several letters to Mr. Ellis which were not answered. On motion the committee will call on Mr. Ellis at his office in Appleton.

Accepting the bid of Standard Oil Co. for furnishing 40,000 gallons of road oil in preference to a bid somewhat lower, brought out discussion on the part of Alderman Herziger, Martens, Larson and Schmidt who held that the lowest bid should be accepted. The discussion disclosed that fact that the lower bidder was only a jobber and there were no guarantees that the oil would be first quality or would be delivered at a specified time. The Standard bid was accepted.

The city of Menasha at its last council meeting favored designating Nicolet Blvd as an arterial highway and this city will have an ordinance prepared making its Neenah side an arterial highway. All other streets which should be made arterial highways will be recommended in the ordinance.

The Chicago and Northwestern railway company will be asked to lower its trucks in order to lower the Commercial Express. If it objects the matter will be taken up with the railway commission.

The old porchhouse on the city fair grounds will be torn down and sold to the highest bidder.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
BARBARA HAWLEY, 25, self-willed and talented, breaks with her fiancé, BRUCE REYNOLDS, and gets a job on the Appleton Telegraph, whose managing editor, ANDREW McDERMOTT, is a former friend of her father's. She makes friends with BOB JEFFRIES and with him covers a suicide of a prominent man in a roadhouse, where she picks up a read scarf belonging to the dead man's unknown woman companion.

Barbara makes the acquaintance of JEROME BALL, a man about town.

Bruce has joined the real estate firm of Manners, Stone and Reynolds, which is promoting a huge civic development scheme. MRS. LYDIA STACY, a rich widow, refuses to invest in it after Bruce fails to respond to her blandishments.

Barbara receives and prints in her love-column many letters from a girl named Violetta. When she sees the announcement of Bruce's marriage to VIOLETTA CRANE, a factory girl, she realizes that through her column she has directed Violetta's campaign to catch him.

Barbara's mother is taken very ill.

In the building where Bruce's firm has its offices, Barbara sees Manners, the senior partner, crawling down the fire escape. His stenographer has just told her he was out of town.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XXVIII
Manners crept past the window without seeing her, and on down the fire escape Barbara stood still on the narrow landing.

At last she caught her breath and started back down the stairs at a run. She reached the front sidewalk just in time to see a taxicab turn into the alley which led to the fire escape at the back of the building.

Barbara hailed another taxi. Her cab wheeled into the alley as Manners' cab left it at the other end. She called to the driver to hurry and then settled back in the tonneau.

"They came out into the street at the end of the alley," Barbara's driver was not far ahead. Barbara's driver was speeding, but the car ahead increased its speed also. She expected it to turn toward the railroad station, but it did not.

The chase went on through the streets of the city and out into the country. Barbara was beginning to wonder whether Manners meant to travel across country in a hired cab, when she noticed that they were following the railroad tracks. A whistle sounded not far away.

The car ahead shot forward, cut sideway suddenly and came to a stop exactly on the railroad tracks. Barbara thrust her head out of the top and saw a train coming from the direction of town.

Manners' car still sat on the rails. The driver jumped out and ran down the side of the track bed, waving his coat about his head. Manners did not get out of the tonneau. Barbara shuddered. It seemed certain death for the man in the taxi. The train came on with no slackening of speed. Barbara looked again. The taxi driver was still running up and down, waving the coat.

The great locomotive made the last curve and came to a stop. Barbara saw Manners jump from the car and run for the train. The engineer was shouting at the cab driver, who was running back to his machine.

Manners made a leap for the train steps, the taxi driver was in his seat and the car moved off the tracks. In a moment the limited was on its way again.

As it shot past, Barbara saw Manners hurl something at the cab driver from the platform on which he stood. The man picked up the object, pocketed it and drove away. Barbara's driver put his head through the window. "Where to now, miss?"

"Back to the Telegraph office as fast as possible."

Every telephone was in use when she entered the editorial room. She jerked Jimmy bodily out of the dictation booth and called the First National Bank.

The cashier there was a friend of hers. "Have you heard anything about the Manners, Stone and Reynolds business?" she asked him. "Where is Manners?"

"Haven't heard anything about the company," he replied, "but Manners himself just closed his account and beat it in a great hurry. Queer proceeding all the way through. What's up?"

But Barbara had replaced the receiver.

McDermott was busy with a caller when she left the telephone booth. She paced the office restlessly, so that Miss Badger gave her a disapproving look, and Jimmy asked what was the matter.

At last the caller departed and Barbara burst into the managing editor's office. He looked up startled. She was not in the habit of entering so violently.

"I'd rather not tell you this," she said, "for many reasons. But I must. Manners just skipped town with his baggage. His bank says he closed his account this afternoon. And his office is telling everyone that he's been out of town several days."

McDermott slowly laid down his pipe.

"So?" he asked. His eyes were curiously sleepy.

Barbara clasped her hands. "Bob says there's a nigger in the woodpile of that company anyway. And something is surely amiss in Manners' way of leaving. He sneaked out of town in a taxi, stopped the east-bound limited and jumped aboard. I'll bet he never came back to Appleton—at least of his own accord."

McDermott rose and pressed a button. Jimmy appeared. "Tell Wells and the foreman to come here."

Barbara saw that there was no use in waiting. She left the office.

"On what train do you expect Mr. Reynolds?" she asked the woman in the outer room.

"On the eight o'clock from the east," replied the woman.

Barbara hurried back to the Telegraph office, and into McDermott's private room.

"Look here, Miss Hawley," he said. "We've got this story sewed up, I think. And we're not entirely sure of the facts yet. I've decided to hold off until tomorrow morning and extra early, to catch the crowds on their way to work. You've done your share. Now you can go home."

To his great surprise, instead of going, Barbara sat down opposite him and began to cry.

McDermott laid down his pipe nervously. He looked about for help. Seeing none he said, to her, "Look here, Miss Hawley. You're wearing out under this life. What're you going to do about it? You're a darn good newspaper woman, but damned party."

Barbara did not speak. McDermott picked up his pipe again. "I'm telling you, the Widow Stacy is a man eater. Those she can't kiss, she kills."

Wells and the foreman entered the office. "Going to extra, boys, just as soon as we get the last dope on this Vale Acres gang. Miss Hawley saw Manners skip town in a taxi, and says his office is lying about his whereabouts."

"Get ready and wait for orders. You, Wells, look up all we've printed on the project so far, and get the names of heavy investors. Ought to be a sucker list that will knock their eyes out. Miss Hawley, you call Manners' home and ask about him, then rush over to see Stone and Reynolds and report what they say at once."

His office was cleared. Barbara found herself in the elevator going down within a moment or two. She dared not think of what lay ahead. She climbed the steps in the Insurance Bldg. for the third time that day, and found the hall outside the Manners, Stone and Reynolds office deserted.

The reception office was also empty when she went into it.

The haughty stenographer entered from an inner corridor. "I told you Mr. Manners was not in town," she snapped before Barbara had time to speak. "He has been gone for three days and will not be back for three more." She slammed a dictionary down in her desk.

Barbara threw her head back. "I don't want to see Mr. Manners. I happen to know too well that he can't be seen. But I do want to see Mr. Stone or Mr. Reynolds."

The woman seemed surprised at her sharp retort. "Mr. Stone is in his private office," she said, "and Mr. Reynolds is also out of town—not expected back until tonight." She turned to her work with an air of dismissal.

Barbara went through the office to Stone's private room. He was a little, bald man with childish eyes and a pathetic mouth.

When Barbara entered the office he started up and gave her a troubled look.

"Yes," he said, in answer to her introduction of herself, "I saw you in the office today. I regret that Mr. Manners is not here, to tell you what you want to know."

"Mr. Manners would not be likely to tell me if he were here," remarked Barbara coolly. The man swallowed with an effort.

"What do you mean?"

"Just this," she replied. "I saw Manners leave this building by the fire escape not ten minutes after your office girl had said he was out of town. He caught the east-bound limited and I think there's something wrong. The bank tells me he's just closed his account."

Stone turned gray. He swallowed several times before he could speak. "Now, Miss Hawley, let's not be hasty. Great harm can be done by jumping at conclusions in a time like this. For God's sake, Miss Hawley, give us a chance. It's a civic matter."

"And if the public loses faith in this company, thousands of dollars will be lost. If the papers will only help us, we'll pull through all right and explain everything."

"The Telegraph will not be too anxious to help you flim-flam the public," said Barbara slowly. "It's time this thing came out. If you want to make a statement, as to Manners' procedure, all right. Other wise, we'll have to go ahead."

Stone face worked. He put his head down on his arms and began to cry.

if I don't hate to see you give way as you are doing lately.

"Why don't you get married?"

Barbara only sobbed the harder.

"There, I didn't mean that impatiently. But sometimes I wonder how on earth you happen to be in this game. I know you're not the kind of woman who'd want to marry just to stop working. But why kill yourself in a newspaper job?"

"You see I'm talking like your father's friend, now, not like your boss."

Barbara was crying harder than ever. "Bruce Reynolds will believe that I've ruined him," she choked. (To Be Continued)

MARQUETTE CAGERS MEET LAWRENCE TONIGHT

BLUES PRIMED FOR TILT WITH MURRAY QUINT

Coach Denny's Squad Hopes to Add Another Victory Over Milwaukeeans

PRIMED for their clash with Marquette university at the armory Thursday evening, Lawrence college cagers completed their workout Wednesday prepared to reenter the win column after their first defeat of the season at Dixon last Friday.

Coach Denny's men are not overconfident, however, regarding the outcome of the game, despite the overwhelming defeats they administered last year. Coach Murray's present team is supposed to be the previous season's and is capable of giving the Blues as hard a struggle as they have encountered thus far. The Milwaukee youths, incidentally, are determined to reverse the tables this time.

Just when Coach Denny will start against Marquette is problematic. The call will rest between Clark, Heidenman, Zussman and Sund for forwards, Ashman at center and Grove and Bries at guards. All these will probably see action.

The starting lineup for Marquette is likewise uncertain. Coach Murray has a quartet of forwards of about equal ability, the roster including Ed and Ery Herte, Milwaukee; Steve Alton, Cumberland, Wis.; and Floyd Rainer, a brilliant flash from Stevens Point.

At center, the competition is between Red Dunn's "little" brother, Connie Dunn, a Milwaukeean, and Bill Curran, Antigo. Fighting for the guard positions are Capt. Bob Demolitz, Johnnie Heimsch and John Thumson, Milwaukee; Jerry Martens, the Pere; Art Hummelman, Medford, Wis.; and John Padden, New Richmond. Of these, Ed Herte, Rainer, Dunn, Thumson, Hummelman, Martens and Padden are sophomores. Alton and Ery Herte have both shown an exceptionally well in practice sessions this week. If these two start, they would displace Rainer and Eddie Herte, who have been in the lineup more often than the first two.

DEMOLISHING IS STAR
Captain Demolish was star quarterback on the Marquette football squad last fall and led the Golden Avalanche in scoring. He played most of the punt and passing, while Heimsch was a gridiron Heimsch likewise was a gridiron star, being variety halfback, while Dunn was a brilliant prospect as quarterback. Understudy. He was kept out of uniform almost all season because of an injury to his knee early in the year.

The Milwaukee collegians thus far have defeated Milton, Milwaukee Normal, Minnesota, Nanderbilt and Creighton, and have lost to Mercer, Iowa, Wisconsin, Georgia Tech, Millikin and St. Louis university.

The hostilities will commence at 8:15. A preliminary game will be staged at 7:30 between the yearling squad and Waupaca high school.

TENNIS FEDERATION MAY ARRANGE LENGLEN MATCH

Paris—(AP)—The French Lawn Tennis federation alone can and ought to arrange a match between Helen Wills, the American champion and Suzanne Lenglen," says L'Auto France, leading sporting Journal, Thursday.

"That's the only way out of the present unsatisfactory state of affairs for which neither player is in any way responsible. It is the diversity of interests at stake—clubs and makers of balls—the inevitable ease with two players of such financial drawing power which alone has delayed a meeting between them."

L'Auto declares it won't be more moral to see the gate receipts of a Lenglen-Wills match, go to a club which would apply them in helping make good French men and women players than to the stockholders of commercial concerns.

ONEIDA INDIANS PLAY TWELVE CORNERS FIVE

Twelve Corners basketball five and the Oneida Indians will meet for the third time this season Friday evening. The game will be played at Twelve Corners. Each team has won one game thus far.

GALPIN HARDWARES TRIM SHIOCTON CAGERS

Galpin Hardware basketball team defeated Shiocton 18 to 12 in a close game at Stephenville Wednesday night. The game was hard fought throughout, the Appleton team leading at the half 10-6. Bowers was the star performer for the Galpin squad.

E. M. B. A. LEAGUE STARTS TOURNAMENT

The E. M. B. A. league of the Traction Co., started a basketball tournament at 21st alleys Wednesday night. Three teams were tied for first place as a result of the first round. They are Power Plant, Gas Plant and Railways, each having won two games and lost one. The remaining three teams in the league, Electric, Bus Drivers and Office, are consequently tied for second place.

MANAGER?

FRANKIE FRISCH

Rumor has it that Frankie Frisch, sensational infielder of the Giants, may be the next manager of the New York club, long piloted by John McGraw. It is stated McGraw has become so interested in Frisch, real estate he may see fit to surrender active direction of the team to Frisch. It may not be for some time, however.

BILLY EVANS

UNIQUE DECISION
Bill Mehlhorn, famous pro golfer, who recently came in for much criticism because he talked too loudly, while Bobby Cruickshank was trying to sink a short putt that would have tied Macdonald Smith for the Texas open, is in the limelight again.

Mehlhorn recently announced that he intended to disconnect himself from golf clubs as a professional. Other famous golfers like Walter Hagen and Leo Diegel, have for a time tried the free lance game, but have always returned to the fold. Unless I am mistaken, Diegel is once again a free agent in golf.

Mehlhorn, however, insists he is through. It is hardly believed the unpleasant circumstances in the Texas open, had anything to do with the decision.

It is just possible that the action of Mehlhorn is a forerunner to the fact that in the near future the high-salaried golf professional will be a thing of the past.

Under present conditions the position of golf professional at one of the big clubs is a mighty lucrative one. All golf concessions are his.

COSTLY LUXURY

I know one crack golfer who seldom has taken part in any but the bigger tournaments, simply because he found there was more money staying at home attending to the wants of the club members.

The municipal golf links throughout the country are indirectly hurting the golf professional. These clubs charge a very moderate fee. Smaller golf clubs have felt the influence of the municipal owned courses more than those located in the larger cities.

Already a number of the smaller clubs have taken over the operation of the club house, getting the receipts from such operations as polishing and shining clubs as well as many other like jobs.

The profits of the concessions, according to many of the smaller clubs, have done much to lessen the annual extra assessment.

GOLF EXPENSE

Golf club will always need instructors to tutor the members in their faults. This revenue will go to the pro but many of the other soft spots are to be on the decline.

Of course, the leading clubs of the larger cities will always boast their golf professionals. The prestige of these star players undoubtedly add much to the reputation of the club. Expense means nothing.

Many golfers take as much interest in the showing of the club's golf professional as the alumni of a college to do in the work of the football team.

Golf, however, has been making such rapid strides that it is only natural to expect changes in the administration of the affairs of the sport.

Regardless of the changes, there is still a big field for the professional. Enthusiasts of the game are always willing to come across to see a duel between two stars.

New York—(AP)—Adrian Paulsen, Dutch middle distance runner, will make his first American indoor appearance at the annual games of the Millrose A. A. in Madison Square Thursday night. He arrived on Olympian late Wednesday night and had to spend the night aboard. He will compete in the "Millrose 600" against Charles Hoff, of Norway. Alan Helfrich former Penn State flash and "Snappy" Waters of Harvard. Paulsen defeated Helfrich in an outdoor race here last September.

HOCKEY LEAGUE WILL CONSIDER PROTESTED GAME

Burt's Candies, Neenah, Dispute Game With Appleton on New Year

A decision on the protested Neenah-Appleton hockey game played at the former city on New Year's day will be handed down Thursday evening at a meeting of officers of the Fox River Valley Ice Hockey league at Menasha. Schlafert-Galpin Maroons, local entry in the league, will be represented at the meeting by Percy Sharp and Walter Dell.

The Appleton sextet claims the championship of the league with five victories and one defeat. Even though their win over the Neenah Burt's Candies is not allowed by the league officials, the Maroons will still have an undisputed claim to the title, members of the team point out.

Burt's Candies held the game ended in a 4-4 tie. If this claim is recognized, Appleton still would have four victories and only one defeat, and would consequently be half a game ahead of Oshkosh, which team rests in second.

The game in question ended 4 to 3 in favor of the Maroons in possession of the puck. After the whistle signifying the end of the game had been blown, and the Appleton team had stopped playing a Neenah man knocked the puck under the goal, the Maroons claim. They also added that the protest from Burt's Candies was not entered the day of the game, but more than a week later.

A means of disposing of the league funds of which there is a small balance, will also be decided at the meeting Thursday night. It is probable that the team winning first place will be awarded a cup.

The standing of the league now is as follows:

| | W. | L. | Pct. |
|----------|----|----|------|
| Appleton | 5 | 1 | .833 |
| Oshkosh | 4 | 2 | .666 |
| Neenah | 3 | 3 | .500 |
| Menasha | 0 | 6 | .000 |

OSSIES VOLLEYBALL SQUAD LOSES ANOTHER

Kimberly—Kruegers Spikers and Duds Footmen slipped another notch in the volleyball race when Lens Papermakers and Mathies Clubhouse Boosters set the league leaders for three straight and a tie for fourth place. Ossies Stampmakers took three as a gift from Briggs Omeigas, when the Landmen failed to put a complete team on the floor. Following is a list of standings of the league.

| | W. | L. |
|----------------------------|----|----|
| Ossies Stampmakers | 10 | 5 |
| Mathies Clubhouse Boosters | 9 | 6 |
| Lens Papermakers | 8 | 7 |

VALLEY SPORT GOSSIP

The clean record of Algoma high on the basketball court was smeared by Kewanee to the tune of 25 to 22 in a bitterly contested game. The Algoma crew, Rankin, who tips the beam at 250 pounds was held to three baskets from the field and two free throws. It took two men to guard him.

Menominee high nosed out a 12 to 8 victory over Marinette in the opening game of their ending series. Both teams represented a stone-wall defense and it was a battle royal. The squads met again later in the season and Coach Tom Johnson has hopes of his team getting even.

Manitowoc is beginning to think about a Valley basketball championship as its high schoolers haven't tasted defeat as yet in the conference. The Shipbuilders made it three straight, taking a thrilling overtime argument from their old rivals, the Sheboygan Chieftains by a 21 to 19 count.

Victories are few and far between for East Green Bay on the basketball court. Wiley's outfit dropped their four straight game at Shawano on Saturday night, 33 to 17. The Baylites couldn't seem to get going away from home. Andrews and Schumacher were the stars for the Shawano basketballers.

Northeastern Wisconsin is beginning to cut a figure in the state bowling tournament. Teck and Uck pounded their way into glory in the doubles with a classy score of 1243, which is sure to get a lot of money while A. Jelany of Two Rivers collected a total of 661 in the individual event.

Margaret Legey of Marinette seems to have the habit of winning the senior girls race in the Green Bay winter sports tourney. Sunday, for the second year in succession she captured the event. If Miss Legey competes next winter and cops again, she will have permanent possession of the trophy.

PLAYED WITH THREE CLUBS LAST SEASON

Bridgeport, Conn. — "Chris" Christy, infielder had a rather unique record in the Eastern League last season.

Christy played with four different clubs during the campaign. He was with Pittsfield, Bridgeport, Albany and Springfield. Moreover, he played three different infield positions, second, third and short.

At each station he batted up almost identical averages. He had a mark of .351 at second, .352 at third and .353 at short.

TWO PRO'S TIED FOR TEXAS OPEN

Mehlhorn and Cruickshank Battle for First Place and $1,500 Today

Hot Springs, Ark.—(AP)—Two Chicago professional golfers, "Wild Bill" Mehlhorn and Bobby Cruickshank, apparently having forgotten their tilt at the close of the Texas open tournament several weeks ago, Thursday met to determine the South Central open championship. The two Wednesday tied for the South Central title and first prize of $1,500, with scores of 285 in a nerve wracking finish of the 72 hole grind. The winner of Thursday's event captures the $1,500 first money, with the loser taking $1,200 for second prize.

Macdonald Smith, of Great Neck, L. I. winner of two Texas tournaments recently, and Al Watrous of Grand Rapids, last year's winner of the South Central title, finished in the top second place with scores of 286.

The tournament just completed saw some of the fastest and most consistent golf ever played in the southwest. Seventeen men finished the 72 holes with par 296 or better.

Frank Walsh, Appleton, finished with 295.

OCONTO LEGION FIVE PLAYS AT KIMBERLY

Kimberly—The Oconto Legion cagers, fresh from their victory over Green Bay Columbus club, will invade Kimberly Clubhouse Friday night to get revenge for the defeat they suffered here last year. Oconto a member of the Inter-State Professional Basketball league, has one of the fastest teams in this section. Athletics, after a week and a half lay off from home games, will be all set to disappoint the invaders, and are confident of retaining them. A fast preliminary team will start at 7 o'clock. Anticipating a record crowd, the bleachers have been put in at the clubhouse, and all is set for an hour of real basketball.

SEVENTH ANNUAL TOURNAMENT TO START TONIGHT

First Shift of Six Squads Will Appear on Arcade Alleys at 7 O'clock

Promptly at 7 o'clock Thursday night six women, seafair bowlers on their respective teams, will hurl their six mineralities down A. T. Jense's Arcade alleys, and the seventh annual tournament of the Wisconsin Women's Bowling association will be under way.

They will be the first group of Appleton's 78 booster squads entered in the tourney, the first of 390 women who will participate in the event, not in the hope of sharing in any of the larger stakes, but merely for the sake of helping make the affair a success. No high scores will be turned in by them, at least it is not probable, but without these teams neither this nor any other bowling tournament could be conducted without a great deal of difficulty.

A second group of a like number of teams will bowl at 9:30, concluding the schedule for the opening night. Booster squads will also occupy the drives Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday morning, the first out of town bowlers not being scheduled for appearance until Saturday afternoon. At this time teams from Milwaukee, Burlington, Cadbury, Green Bay, Racine and Madison will roll.

All six alleys will be in tip top shape for the event. Following a thorough cleaning, a fresh coat of shingles was put over them Wednesday, insuring a smooth, fast surface for the fair keepers.

Accommodations for approximately 100 spectators have been provided for by Mr. Jense. A nominal admission price will be charged.

The schedule for Thursday night follows:

Seven o'clock—Fox River Valley Knit Co., Belting's Drug Store, Ideal Lumber and Coal Co., W. S. Patterson and Co., Appleton State Bank, Patten Paper Co.

Nine o'clock—Gleudemann's Gage Co., Pedhonne-Gebody Co., Valley Davis Products Co., Novelty Book Shop, Marx Jewelry Store, Fox River Paper Co.

Friday afternoon schedule:

Three o'clock—Irvine, Zuehlke, J. Green Bay Columbus club, will invade Kimberly Clubhouse Friday night to get revenge for the defeat they suffered here last year. Oconto a member of the Inter-State Professional Basketball league, has one of the fastest teams in this section.

WEISSMULLER, LAUFER WILL RACE TONIGHT

Chicago—The central A. A. U. diving championships will be determined and the 100 yard back stroke race between Johnny Weissmuller and Walter Laufner will be a feature of the Illinois A. C. swimming meet Thursday night.

Weissmuller and Laufner have alternated in smashing the worlds record for the event. Laufner holds it now at 11 seconds.

HORNSBY BATS .400 FOR LAST FIVE YEARS

Three times in the last five years Rogers Hornsby, recently voted the most valuable player in the National League, has batted over .400. His average for the last five years has been .402, a most amazing record.

RAY DECIDES TO JOIN PRO RANKS

Hopes to Run Up Bank Account on "the Very Best Thing He Can Do"

Chicago—(AP)—Joe Ray has chucked his Illinois A. C. running trunks in the locker to formally turn professional after the collegiate fashion brought into vogue last November by "Red" Grange.

"Now I am a professional," the middle-distance veteran of the A. C. announced Wednesday and straightaway proved it by introducing his manager, with flashlights booming.

Ray, according to the mode Wednesday night issued a statement to the press. He expressed his sincere regret in terminating a 16 year amateur athletic career during which he acquired a bevy of titles.

Joe frankly admitted that running is the best thing he could do and that he intended to employ the ability to run up a bank account.

He probably will, having reigned virtually supreme among middle distance runners until Paavo Nurmi came to the United States. Ray last winter ran the fastest 500 yards of his career. He holds the world's record for the 110 yards with the Finn and thinks he can lower the four minutes and 12 seconds time.

One of the finest jumpers of the meet to enter is Hans Strand. This Rockford slider is a sure point winner, especially since his two victories at the Cary and Rockford meets just a few weeks ago. His teammate, Jorgen Johnsen, former Canadian champ, is another strong contender. Ted Strang, Ole Brannsen, Bjorne Svensen, Olaf Bjoreby, Thoralf Lund and Ingolf Bakkerud complete the Rockford list.

Other scores in double figures follow: J. Buthke, Port Washington, 617; Art Blanchard, Milwaukee, 617; E. Bach Odomowicz, 612; H. Kissner, Milwaukee, 605.

DOUBLES SCORES LOW

The doubles combinations were not very "warm" and the Port Washington duo, C. Larson and N. Roden, topped 'em all with 1,162, the former donating 590 and Roden 572. Team counts were 555, 424 and 383. J. Mueller and E. Dusold, Milwaukee, were next in line on 1,161. Dusold contributing the lion's share with 614.

INDERENDENTS BEAT KAUKAUNA SEXTET

Appleton Independents defeated the Electric City hockey sextet 2-0 in an overtime game at Kaukauna Sunday afternoon. Neither side had scored at the end of the regular playing period, but in the overtime play Frank Buss shot the puck into the net twice for both of the local team's counters.

The lineup of the Appleton squad was: Arnold Buss, left wing, John McHugh, center, Frank Buss, right wing, Walter Zimmerman, right guard, Ira Ballheim, left guard, Andrew Forster, goal tender. Al Goshu and Arnold and Walter Dalmann are the reserves.

The Independents have won two of their three games played this season. Next Sunday the team will play a return game at New London.

MADISON READY FOR LARGEST SKI JUMP IN HISTORY

Approximately 60 Jumpers Expected in University of Wisconsin Event

Madison—What promises to be the greatest slide tournament of its kind will be held at Madison this Saturday in the form of the International Ski tournament. Nothing has been left undone to make the affair a huge success and the largest entry list in history has been enrolled.

Alfred Knoll has suffered but little from the recent thaw and snow will be plentiful. Director of Winter Sports Iversen has arranged for the headquarters at the Lurain Hotel and has appointed James Allen as manager of the meet.

The present list of jumpers has reached a mark of 40 and should grow to 60 at least ere the first jumper takes off. Among the leading contestants to date are E. O. Sundberg from the Forest Preserve club of Chicago; Thomas Hagen, Henry Hentling, and John Olsen from the East Claire club. These men will jump in Class A and will draw a fine lot of competition in the long list of entries from the Grand Beach and Norge clubs.

University of Wisconsin jumpers are expected to cut heavily in the final reckoning of points. Knut Dahl and Hans Troy, the latter winner of the intercollegiate jump at Lake Placid, will be sure contenders for a place among the leaders. Dud Carmichael, Robert Pabst and Johnny Plichta should not be far behind.

A team middle game of 355 wrecked the team's chance of placing higher but even so it is well up in the money.

G. Wagner did some seporific socking in the drive of the Zummach five, crowding off 232, 221, and 235, totalling 688, the modest efforts of his mates detaining the punch for the top Team scores were 966, 855 and 1,014. Lord Campbell Called The Turn

"So essential did I consider an index to be in every book, that I proposed to bring a bill into Parliament to deprive an author who publishes a book without an index of the privilege of copyright, and, moreover, to subject him, for his offense, to a pecuniary penalty."

So wrote Lord Campbell, in 1857, in his preface to the "Lives of the Chief Justices."

The prejudice in favor of indexes, which he evidenced, is not a bit greater than ours.

The Post-Crescent also appreciates the vast reader-convenience they bring. Our ideas on this subject concur exactly with those of Lord Campbell.

That's why we use painstaking care in arranging the A-B-C Classified Ads in perfect catalogue form with alphabetical index terms-so that you can instantly find what you want-and so that you will not say in exasperation that we deserve a "pecuniary penalty!"

KRUSE PAROLED AFTER HEARING LONG SENTENCE

Sheriff Will Put Family Deserter at Work and Collect Wages for His Wife

George Kruse, 524 E. College-ave, was sentenced to 18 months in the state penitentiary at Waupun in circuit court Thursday morning when he was found guilty of failing to supply his family but sentence was suspended during his good behavior and he was paroled to Sheriff P. G. Schwarz. The sheriff will find work for Kruse and his wages will be used to support his wife, Celia, the complainant.

Kruse, who has a record of 14 arrests including non-support, assault and battery, burglary and seven for drunkenness and who has been twice paroled to the state board of control twice, was arrested late in November, 1925, and has spent 71 days in the county jail since that time. He was arraigned before Judge Theodore Berg but demanded a trial before another judge. Judge Berg called in and again Kruse declared he didn't "like" the judge and he was bound over for trial in circuit court. The hearing started Wednesday afternoon and hints of insanity caused Judge Werner to have Kruse examined before proceeding with the case. Dr. D. J. O'Connor, examiner, found him physically able to work and also found that a spine injury of which he complained was not of a serious nature and that he was sane. Kruse also complained of an injured wrist.

The Kruses have two children, one eight years of age and the other three.

BOWLING MAYOR TO OPEN KEGEL TOURNEY

State Women's Bowling Association Arrives to Take Charge of Events

Officials of the Wisconsin Women's Bowling association have arrived in Appleton for the opening of the state women's bowling tournament in Appleton Thursday night. They include Mrs. Jean Knepprecht, of Milwaukee, secretary of the association, Mrs. Edith Schwartz, Kenosha, Mrs. Ollie Schroeder, Milwaukee, and Mrs. Mabel Manhardt, Milwaukee, directors.

The officials will be here during the whole tournament which will last ten days. Headquarters will be opened at the Arcade alleys on N. Appleton-st. Local officials in charge are Mrs. Sue Jess, president, and Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, treasurer.

Mayor John Goodland, Jr., will roll the first ball when the tournament is officially opened at 7 o'clock. The first teams to bowl are booster teams and include Fox River Knitting company, Bellings' Drug store, Ideal Lumber and Coal company, W. S. Patterson company, Appleton Woman's club and Patten Paper company.

State officers and members of the local committee held a luncheon and meeting Thursday noon in the Gold room of the Conway hotel to plan final details for the tournament. Those present were Mrs. Knepprecht, Mrs. Schroeder, Mrs. Swartz, Mrs. Jess, Misses Ziegenhagen, Ellen Dunn, Mabel Sibley, and Sylvia Roudelush, the last four of Appleton.

MADISON POLICE HOLD YOUTHS FOR CAR THEFTS

Madison Police Hold YOUTHS FOR CAR THEFTS

Madison police believe they have cleared up the theft of 14 automobiles in five Wisconsin cities with the arrest late Wednesday of five young men of Madison and Deerfield. One member of the quintet, police say, confessed and implicated the four others in stealing machines at Madison, Janesville, Milwaukee, Fond du Lac and Racine.

Arrested Thursday, then men pleaded not guilty and were held for hearing Wednesday, in $5,000 bonds each. They gave their names as William Bushy, Wesley Riley, George Debold, and Ben Wendt, all of Madison, and Walter Prescott, Deerfield.

A cash slip found in an abandoned and stripped car near Fond du Lac resulted in the arrests.

MYSTERY PLANE

This wreckage of a huge seaplane, picked up off Barnegat, N. J., by the teamer Allegre, told the story of an aerial "dope" runner come to grief. Coast guards identified it as a "mystery plane" with a rum row reputation, and said they had fired on it with anti-aircraft guns. There was no trace of the seaplane's crew.

WINNEBAGO-CO SHIES AT OLD AGE PENSION
Oshkosh (P)—Winnebago-co officials are not anxious to assume the burden of old age pensions for the reason that the county has been hard hit by the mothers pension law through failure of the state to stand its proposition of the expense. Although the state was supposed to pay one-third of the $26,438 for mothers care, as a matter of fact, in 1924, Winnebago-co paid out pensions and received only $763.45 as the states share, less 10 per cent.

SIX KILLED, ELEVEN INJURED AS WALLS FALL
New Britain, Conn.—(P)—Six men are known to have been crushed to death, 11 others, so main a serious condition, are at the New Britain General hospital and ten are unaccounted for as the result of the collapse of a brick wall at the foundry of North and Judd Mfg. Co. Company on East Main-st. shortly before noon Tuesday. The dead were not identified.

It was first thought that the wall was razed by an explosion in the foundry. This theory has been abandoned and now is believed that the building caved in from the weight of snow on the roof.

CITY POLITICS SIMMERING AS ELECTION NEARS

Mayor Goodland Silent on Whether He Will Be Candidate for Reelection

With the primary election slightly more than six weeks hence and with the time for filing nomination papers expiring in less than a month interest in the coming contest for election of mayor is apparent in many quarters.

The term of Mayor John Goodland, Jr. who was elected two years ago, will expire the middle of April with the terms of six of the twelve aldermen.

In the absence of a public announcement by Mayor Goodland either of running for reelection or of retiring from office, rumors of all kinds have had excellent opportunity to breed and spread.

Then speculation has been furthered particularly by hints dropped now and then that the mayor will not be a candidate to succeed himself. At the time the budget was made by the council last fall and provision was made for a possible increase of the mayor's salary from $1,200 to $2,500, the executive disclaimed interest in the matter saying it wouldn't be of any help to him. It is no secret, however, that many of his friends, especially among the members of the council, have been busy boosting his candidacy and trying to persuade him to stay in the field. Mr. Goodland himself has declined to comment on the matter publicly.

One of the potential candidates looming on the political horizon is J. A. Hawes who held the office for two terms and withdrew four years ago. Mr. Hawes also has declined to make any announcement, but rumors seek to make his candidacy an established fact.

Denials have been issued from A. W. Laabe, former alderman that he can be considered a candidate for the office. Four years ago he was mentioned prominently as a candidate but did not enter the race, and the same reports were circulated early this year but were quashed in the same way.

The only other person whose name has been used conspicuously in popular discussion of mayoral candidates is A. C. Rule, city assessor. He also refuses to commit himself publicly.

A few more weeks or even days may determine definitely the extent of the present contest papers for the office may even be circulated. The time limit is Mar. 8, or 15 days before the primaries, which will take place on Mar. 23. The regular election will be held April 6.

EXAMINE CHILDREN TO DETERMINE CAPACITY

Examinations of Appleton school children to determine those who should be sent to the ungraded room at Lincoln school will be completed Thursday by Miss Janet Holcombe of the state health department. The purpose of the examinations by a clinical psychologist is to give backward children opportunities not afforded in the regular school curriculum. If at a later time children placed in the ungraded room are found to be of the grade they will be returned to the grades. Clinical psychology aims to alleviate any difficulties in social adjustment and the ungraded room in the schools is one of its instruments in the work.

Tom And Frank Peeved At Congressional Monickers

By CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

Washington—Somebody made the point in Congress the other day that there's one thing generals of this generation can't have which their predecessors of long ago were very strong on.

That's equestrian statues. Because generals no longer ride frisky horses. They ride in automobiles. And what would a statue of a general sitting in an automobile look like?

Refer in his presence to the representative from the 11th Illinois congressional district as "Fearless Frank" Reid, and you'd better heat it. Address the representative from the 11th district of Texas as "Terrible Tom" Blanton and you'll run for your life, if you care to save it.

Reid and Blanton are the legislators who got into a quarrel at a session of the House District Committee recently, culminating in a threat by "Terrible Tom" to give "Fearless Frank" a "good hocking."

The scrap wasn't actually pulled off. It was just a promise and "Terrible Tom" hasn't made good yet, but their fellow congressmen wished the two new nicknames onto the pair. They don't like it, "Terrible Tom" rather less than "Fearless Frank" because the former is the responsible one.

Senator Caraway of Arkansas is "in bad" with his fellow members of Congress from the southern states.

"President Coolidge, as a president," he is quoted as saying, in a talk before the Missouri State Society here, "leaves little to be desired, but measured by southern standards, he falls considerably below par socially."

In the first place, the southern Democratic members of Congress consider that a Republican president, as a president, leaves a lot to be desired. In the second place, they don't like the idea of being placed in the position of looking down on the president socially, whatever his politics.

Reputations on the south's behalf, were numerous heard in both houses, from members representing constituencies below Mason and Dixon's line, the day after the Caraway speech appeared in the papers.

snobbish!" "Who's he to talk about southern standards!"

These were some of the expressions noted.

Ethelbert Stewart, commissioner of labor statistics in the Labor Department, has received a stack of perhaps not a million commendatory letters, with one close to it, on account of his attack on "paritival park rules," before the National Recreation Conference here recently.

"A girl who works nine hours a day in a factory at the speed rate of today," he said, "can stand a little pecking in a public park, and she's well entitled to it without anybody's interference."

They say around the Labor department that Commissioner Stewart will get the entire flapper vote, in 1925 for president.

Senator Copeland told this one to Houdini, the magician, while the latter was in Washington.

John F. Hylan, then mayor of New York, was crossing City Hall park with a friend. The steps led them past a statue of a man with his hands tied and his feet ironed together.

"I always regarded that as a very fine statue of Nathan Hale," remarked the friend.

"Nathan Hale?" said Hylan, puzzled.

LOWER SURTAX RATES MAY BE VIEWED AS LAW

House and Senate Are Both in Agreement on This Particular Item

ADOPTION ENDS BATTLE

Passage of Tax Bill Before End of Month Will Include New Rates

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright 1926 By Post Pub. Co., Washington, Feb. 4.—Adoption by the senate of the maximum of 20 per cent surtax on incomes of more than $100,000 means that for all practical purposes this item may be considered as law. The house and senate being in agreement on this point there will be nothing to iron out in conference on this provision of the bill and with the certain passage of the bill before the end of this month taxpayers can figure on the senate schedule as the one they will find on their income tax blanks.

The importance of the senate action cannot be over-estimated. It means that a three-year battle for a lower surtax has finally been won by those who have insisted that a productive rate as more important than a larger rate. It has taken members of congress of both parties a little while to get the full significance of this argument but it was due to their disinclination to accept the argument until facts could be adduced to prove it. Treasury figures show conclusively that as the government has reduced surtaxes more revenue has been taken in than under the high rates.

INDICATE FUTURE CHANGES

Indeed, the fact that the senate accepted the principle of a productive tax may be the forerunner of further changes in the surtax rate three or four years hence. It is not believed incidentally that congress would be disposed to go much lower than 20 per cent in the next revision which is scheduled to occur just before the 1928 presidential election but the significant thing is that a cut has been made from 27 to 20 per cent.

Treasury experts have figured it out that the government could really collect its necessary revenues on a 15 per cent surtax and Secretary Mellon, while making no public statement to that effect, has felt for three years that a 15 per cent rate would be equitable. Some experts insist that it should be 10 per cent. They point to the extraordinarily large receipts from the enactment of the law in 1913 when the surtax rates were low and were not regarded as a burden by business as a whole.

The chief value of the surtax reduction, apart from the effect on individual incomes, is the relationship which it has to tax-exempt securities. Every investment hitherto on a taxable security has been compared with a tax-exempt to see whether the high rate of interest or dividends paid on the taxable investment would, when the income tax was deducted be greater or less than the yield on a tax-exempt municipal or state bond. States and municipalities have been able to borrow money at 4 per cent for instance, and have attracted many investors who felt that 4 per cent on a tax-exempt bond was better than a 6 or 7 per cent bond on which there might be 3 or 4 per cent to pay in federal taxes. It was all because of the surtax. Such in some cases took 50 cents out of every dollar of additional income.

Now the comparison will be more favorable to the taxable investment and the government expects that large holdings of tax-exempt securities will be distributed and reach the hands of investors who always have sought that type of security in the past. It may also have a deterrent effect on the borrowing propensity of states and cities, a circumstance which may keep down the burden of local taxation which has risen in recent years to unprecedented heights.

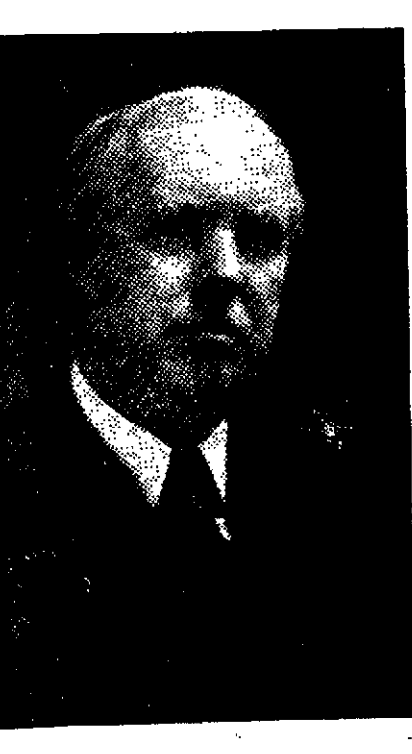

All in all the adoption of a 20 per cent surtax is a victory for Secretary of the treasury Mellon who from the start has expounded the very tax doctrine which will shortly be enacted into law.

CONTINUE FIGHT ON AIR SERVICE

Mitchell and Patrick Testify Before Congressional Committees

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The offensive for a separate air service was renewed concurrently before two congressional committees Friday by Maj. General Patrick, chief of the army air service and William Mitchell, once General Patrick's assistant and more recently the center of a quarrel over policy which led to his court martial and resignation from the army.

"A terrible mess," was the way Mitchell described the present status of aviation to the house military committee, declared the reins of the president's air board did not go far enough, and renewed his advocacy of an army air corps separately organized and with an independent status like that of the marine corps. The air service chief interposed no objection to the Wadsworth bill drafted by the war department along the lines of the air boards findings and providing for segregation of the air service under a new assistant secretary of war. He insisted however, that the proposal was only a partial solution.

Mitchell, still addressed as "colonel" by members of the house committee despite his retirement to civilian life four days ago, renewed the charges against the present management of aviation which led to his court martial.

"You've got no system whatever for operation, training or equipment," he said. "The air personnel is on duty with the army when it should be trained to prevent armies from coming together. The whole conception is wrong."

He appealed to congress to "give a specific mission to air power" and said $65,000,000 a year would maintain an adequate air force.

WON RENOWN IN FINANCE AND IN GOLF

Head of First Trust Company Had Been Confined to Bed for Only a Week

Charles S. Dickinson, 66, president of First Trust Co., vice president of First National bank and one of the best known golfers in the middle west, died at his home, 607 E. Alton-st., shortly after midnight. Mr. Dickinson had been in ill health since last November and his ailment has been diagnosed as acute Bright's disease. About a month ago he spent several days in a Chicago hospital for examination and then returned to his home. He had been confined to his bed for only a little more than a week.

Mr. Dickinson was one of the most prominent men in Wisconsin banking circles. He came to Appleton in 1898 to become cashier of the Commercial National bank and he held that position until the consolidation of that institution with the First National bank in 1919. In the reorganization he became vice president of the First National bank and he was elected president of the First Trust Co. when that organization was formed. For years Mr. Dickinson was regarded as one of the most astute financiers in Wisconsin and he was entrusted with many large financial responsibilities. He was a trustee of the Baldwin estate and also had charge of the Ramsey estate.

BORN IN WAUKESHA

Mr. Dickinson was born in Waukesha, Ill., on June 9, 1859. When he was about 18 years of age he entered the employ of the First National bank of Chicago as a messenger boy, working up rapidly and soon becoming a teller.

In a few years he left the First National bank to become cashier of the Royal Trust Co. of Chicago. In 1898, at the solicitation of Senator Philatus Sawyer of Oshkosh, brother of Mrs. Dickinson, Mr. Dickinson came to Appleton to become cashier of the Commercial National bank, which with his son, Kenneth S. Dickinson, present state amateur champion, he won the Pater-Fillius cup in Milwaukee several times. Mr. Dickinson had a peculiar style of his own, but its effectiveness was never questioned. As late as last fall, when his health was far from good, Mr. Dickinson played the difficult Buttes des Morts course under 80, turning in a score of 77 late in the year.

Mr. Dickinson also was well known as a bridge player and was extremely active in the game as played at Elk club. Mr. Dickinson was a member of the Masonic order, Elk club, Riverside and Buttes des Morts golf clubs.

Mr. Dickinson's active life, despite his years, was a source of wonderment to his friends. He was as active as most men twenty years younger and he was more than a match in most activities for younger men of his circle. As recent as last summer it was not unusual for Mr. Dickinson to arise early in the morning at his summer home, spend an hour or two working in his garden, plunge into the lake for a swim, spend the remainder of the daylight hours playing 36 holes of golf, and then end the day by dancing until midnight or later.

Mr. Dickinson is survived by his widow, two sons, Kenneth S. and Phil S. Dickinson, one daughter, Miss Ruth Dickinson, and a sister, Mrs. R. F. Green, Chicago.

The funeral will be held at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at All Saints Episcopal church and temporary interment will be made in the chapel at Riverside cemetery.

Church View On Dry Act Causes Violent Storm

New York — (AP) — The newly announced policy of the church temperance society of the Episcopal church, favoring modification of the Volstead act and legalization of light wines and beer, has brought a violent storm of opposition and defense throughout the United States. Prohibition leaders, Episcopal organizations and individual clergymen have challenged the statement of the Rev. Dr. James Empringham, national secretary of the society, who in announcing the new policy, asserted that the Volstead act had failed.

The society, the challengers maintain, has no authority to speak for the Episcopal church, is relatively unimportant and is in error in its reversal of policy. Even members of the organization itself are taken aback by the announcement. A meeting of the board of directors will be called soon to consider the situation.

Defenders of Dr. Empringham, including several churchmen, assert that his conclusion after a year's investigation are correct. Dr. Empringham stands by his guns and reiterates that a poll of 20,000 members of the society showed a preponderance in favor of modification of the law.

DEBATE OVER RADIO

The issue was debated Thursday night by radio from Washington by Senator Edgar, Republican, New Jersey, and Senator Dill, Democrat, Washington. Edgar characterized the Volstead act as a "colossal failure" and a "stupendous expense" to taxpayers. Dill denied that prohibition increased intemperance and cited figures to show deaths from alcoholism were on the wane and praised prohibition as aiding the prosperity of the country.

Dr. Empringham, admits his telephone has been kept busy by bishops and others who disapproved his announcement. He minimized most of the protests, saying they were largely from members who had not paid their dues in the society for years.

Canon William Sheafe Chase of Brooklyn, a member of the board of directors of the church temperance society, has asked for a meeting of the board to consider this "reversal of policy of the society."

Two vice presidents of the society, Bishop S. M. Griswold of Chicago, and Bishop Reginald Weller of Fond du Lac, Wis., are in disagreement with Dr. Empringham's statements. Bishop Griswold said he would be distressed beyond measure if he thought the eighteenth amendment was in danger of repeal. Bishop Weller expressed the belief that the prohibition law was doing better now.

A. D. Plamondon, head of the national association opposed to prohibition, on the other hand lauded Mr. Empringham's stand in a statement from Chicago.

STUDENTS WILL BANISH LIQUOR

Missouri Fraternity Man Join in Move to Stamp Out Drinking

Columbia, Mo.—(AP)—Fraternity men have joined with women student leaders and officials of the University of Missouri to stamp out drinking by members of the student body as the result of publicity given the suspension of Harry E. "Pete" Jackson, captain-elect of the Tiger football team.

Under a resolution adopted by the presidents of fraternities, each fraternity hereafter will have a representative at social functions to report cases of drinking.

Alumni leaders in several cities over the state protested the suspension of Jackson by Dr. Albert K. Heckel, dean of men.

Dr. Heckel declared that if Jackson could present new facts, he would be given a hearing.

The girl to whom Jackson is alleged to have made improper advances at a party recently, a junior from Wisconsin, left Columbia Thursday night. She declared that Jackson should not have been suspended.

She said that he had apologized to her for his actions and that she reported the affair to school authorities because two other girls who attended the party were talking about it. She said she had made the report to protect herself, as he had done nothing wrong.

The other girls, twin sisters who live at St. Louis, and who have been drawn from the university, declared Thursday night that there was no liquor served at the party and that everyone "behaved lovely."

One, however, asserted that Jackson struck her on the nose when she asked him if he had done to the Wisconsin girl who suddenly left the party.

TAX BILL CALLS SENATORS EARLY

Meet Hour Sooner to Fight Question of Income Tax

Washington—(AP)—Declaring that a filibuster against the tax reduction bill was on in the senate to force complete publicity of income tax returns, Chairman Smoot of the finance committee announced Friday he would force night sessions beginning Monday to speed consideration of the bill.

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—The senate was called into session an hour earlier than usual Friday to fight out the question of repeal of the income tax publicity provision of the tax reduction bill.

The early session was voted over the objections of Senator Couzens, Michigan, and Norris, Nebraska, Republicans. The roll call was 64 to 13.

Sensor Couzens, who was discussing an amendment which would open income tax returns to public inspection, said he was unprepared to continue at the early hour Friday but Chairman Smoot of the finance committee, in charge of the bill, suggested the early meeting, nevertheless.

Criticizing the lack of progress on the measure Thursday, Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, demanded night session also, if necessary to get the bill through in time to assure tax reduction by March 15, when first income tax installments are due.

Sensor Norris replied he was ready to work 12 hours a day but called attention that "most of the senators came in and listened to this important debate only when the bells signal a roll call."

Sensor Couzens who was chairman of the special committee which investigated the internal revenue support the amendment of Senator Norris proposing public inspection of all returns and denounced the present law allowing publication of tax payments as "abundant and inimical to the public interests."

SCENT FIGHT FOR SEATS IN LEAGUE

Entrance of Germany Expected to Cause Scramble for Non-permanent Places

Geneva, Switzerland—(AP)—Indications are increasing that the forthcoming entrance of Germany into the League of Nations with her election to a permanent seat on the league council as arranged at Locarno will set in motion a bitter fight for the non-permanent seats in the council, and perhaps also a movement to increase the permanent places still further.

In pursuance of a resolution adopted by the last assembly, the league members are committed to the principle of the rotation in choice of the six non-permanent council seats.

Spain refrained from voting on the resolution and like Poland, is said to nourish an ambition for election to a permanent seat.

Belgium will be reluctant to drop out as a non-permanent member without being taken care of, and Brazil, another non-permanent, is said to hope for permanent election, filing temporarily at least, the place always held open for the United States.

32 ARE DEAD AFTER HEAVY FALL OF SNOW

Report Five Ships in Distress; Traffic Is Badly Disrupted

New York — (AP) — Northeastern United States Friday was struggling to free itself from the grip of the most severe snowstorm of the winter that lasted fully 24 hours and caused 32 deaths.

Eight were killed in a building collapse under the weight of snow at New Britain, Conn., eight perished at sea and there were other deaths in various cities.

Trains were hours late, and commuting service was disrupted in New York, Boston and Philadelphia. Wire communication was interrupted.

Five ships were in distress at sea. Three thousand passengers were on boats playing between New York and New England points when the vessels had to anchor in Long Island sound, near New York.

The storm spread a snow blanket varying from a few inches to two feet.

NEW YORK DIGGING

At the lowest estimate it will cost New York $1,000,000 to dig out of the storm. Twenty thousand workmen are trying to keep the main streets passable.

Five persons died in the storm in New York city. Schools were suspended in the afternoon.

Albino between New York and Chicago was halted.

Only two of five passenger vessels due to dock in New York dared to enter.

Boston was paralyzed even more than New York. Public buildings, including the state house, were thrown open to commuters forced to stay in the city.

The eight who died at sea were passengers. A volunteer crew of coast guardsmen took three men off a barge near Asbury Park, N. J. The barge broke up, one of the rescued men dying later.

Seven bargemen were lost in the weeks of three barges off Sandy Hook, N. J. Five more barges and two tugs were still in danger.

CREW IS RESCUED

Eight men, the entire crew, were rescued from the schooner Kenwood, which went ashore on the rocks at Cedar Point, Mass.

The Pollock Rip light vessel, with a crew of 11, went ashore on Cape Cod, Mass.

40 CHRISTIANS ARE MURDERED IN SYRIA

London — (AP) — Reuter's correspondent at Damascus, Syria, says the massacre of 40 Christians in March indicates an anti-Christian movement is developing.

Monday, he reports, a son of Hassan El Kharrat, bandit chief, was hanged with two other convicted brigands. This caused bad feeling and brought threats that three Europeans would be hanged in revenge.

Letters were sent to the catholic patriarch at Maron, threatening to burn his house because some of the prosecution witnesses at the trial of Hassan El Kharrat's son were Catholics.

A French soldier was stabbed Friday. Attacks on the barricades continue.

DROP PADLOCK TO CLEAR UP MISTAKE

Padlock proceedings brought by John A. Lonsford, district attorney, against Nettie Earle, Myrtle King and Helen Schilling, as the result of a raid on an alleged disorderly house on N. Appleton-st., Saturday evening, Jan. 30, were dismissed Friday morning in municipal court on the plea of the state. Miss Schilling had been ordered to show cause by Friday why the establishment should not be closed but it was discovered that a mistake had been made in the district attorney's office and that she had not owned the property for almost three years. In order to correct the mistake, proceedings were dropped against the two inmates of the house as well as Miss Schilling.

The Earle, bandit chief, as owner of the establishment, will be reopened after the dismissal of the first order, however. She is at liberty on $200 bond.

REP. MADDEN TAKEN ILL AND REMOVED TO HOME

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Representative Martin B. Madden of Illinois, one of the Republican leaders in Congress, was taken ill at the Capitol Friday and moved to his home in an ambulance.

He suffered a severe chill and developed considerable fever. He has not been in good health for many months.

It was said at his office that his condition was not serious, although his family physician was summoned and he was taken from his office to the ambulance in a reclining chair.

MELIUS BANKRUPT TO ESCAPE DEBTS OF FORMER HUSBAND

Chicago—(AP)—The reason for the voluntary bankruptcy petition filed some time ago by Mme. Laetitia Melius, opera singer, was disclosed Friday when the matter came up for hearing before referee Frank L. Wynn. The singer, whose married name is Mrs. William F. Melius, was married at 17 to Elmer L. Ohrman, a real estate operator, whom she afterward divorced, and one of her creditors got out an attachment for her salary on a $17,000 debt of her former husband.

An almost forgotten law in Illinois makes a wife responsible for the debt of an erring or unwise husband, confronted with the realization that Ohrman had debts aggregating $84,439, the singer filed bankruptcy proceedings in an effort to clear herself of the legal responsibility of the law that so far as known never had been invoked here before.

Mrs. Melius was born and lived for many years in Wisconsin.

SLAYER FAVORS DEATH PENALTY

Goes to Electric Chair Opposed to Abolition of Capital Punishment

Ossining, N. Y.—(AP)—Protesting against the "injustice" of his own execution, Matthew Wesser, whose father was hanged, appealed abolition of capital punishment almost on the brink of the electric chair.

He told Warden Lawes who gave the fatal order to his executioner Thursday night, that he hoped the warden's campaign for the abolition of the death penalty would fail.

Wesser was electrocuted with Ernest T. McKim, negro, who killed detective Chester A. Hagen a year ago in the Bronx. Wesser was convicted of murdering Howard Duff, a Niagara Falls paymaster, in a hold-up.

During Wesser's appeal from conviction two Civil War veterans pleaded with a judge to order that Wesser be executed in his own name, to save that of an old comrade from disgrace.

Wesser, they said, was really the son of Louis Peter Otto, who was hanged in 1883 for the murder of his wife. He was adopted by Matthew Wesser, and took his foster father's name. The judge told the veterans he could do nothing.

"I feel that this is an injustice," Wesser said before he went to the chair "because I am only one out of the seven implicated, and the one who fired the shot escaped by fate."

REGINALD DENNY AND PARTY SURVIVE STORM ON PACIFIC

Los Angeles, Calif.—(AP)—Reginald Denny, motion picture star, and two companions who were thought to have met with trouble in a storm off the Mexican coast, are safe in Ensenada, Mexico, having put into that port through the rough weather, according to word brought here by a friend of the actor.

After being tossed by the storm that swept the California coast, Denny and his companions, who were on a fishing trip in a 34-foot boat, were forced into a fishing harbor to refuge, and finally made Ensenada after a delay of 14 hours. Early Thursday two airplanes were chartered by the Universal Film company to search for signs of the actor's craft, and ships in the vicinity were advised to be on the lookout. The planes were recalled after word of his safety was received.

WILL KEEP WEATHER STATION AT WAUSAU

Washington—(AP)—Field stations which the weather bureau had planned to shut down wholly or in part owing to lack of funds will be continued in operation, Chief Marvin said Friday. This has been made possible through increase in appropriations above those recommended by the budget and partly through economies in operation.

The principal stations affected are those at St. Paul, Minn.; Grand Haven, Mich.; Wausau, Wis. and Yankton, S. D.

FORCE ACT OF COPELAND'S IS TURNED DOWN

Refuses to Consider Resolution to Ask President to Intervene

LONG DEBATE DEVELOPS

Senator Edwards Tells Senate Coolidge "Should and Must" Act

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—By a vote of 45 to 28, the senate refused Friday to consider the Copeland resolution requesting President Coolidge to intervene in the anthracite suspension. Twenty Democrats, seven Republicans and one Farmer Labor senator voted to take up the resolution while nine Democrats and 29 Republicans voted in the negative.

The senate's action was the first to be taken in congress in respect to the coal controversy and the vote was forced by opponents of President Coolidge's non-intervention policy after many previous attempts for a showdown had been defeated in both senate and house.

Under the resolution presented by Senator Copeland, Democrat, New York, the president would have been requested to call representatives of the miners and operators to conference.

COPELAND MAKES APPEAL

Before moving to take up the measure, the senators from New England to urge, Senator Copeland appealed to stand with him, because their states were snow bound and in need of fuel. But all the New England senators present voted against the motion.

The roll call follows:
For consideration of the resolution: Republicans: Brookfield, Couzens, Frazier, Howell, LaFollette, Norris and Nye—7.
Democrats: Blaine, Broussard, Bruce, Caraway, Copeland, Dill, Edwards, Ferris, George, Harkin, Kendrick, McKellar, Mayfield, Overman, Sheppard, Smith, Trammell, Tyson, Walsh and Wheeler—29.
Total 36.
Abstained: Shipstead—1.

DEBATE FOLLOWS VOTE

After the vote a long debate developed and another effort was made to bring the resolution up by unanimous consent agreement on the ground that consideration of the resolution would delay the tax bill.

Senator Edwards, Democrat, New Jersey, told the senate that President Coolidge "should and must" act as Roosevelt and Harding had done.

Without a record vote the senate authorized an investigation into coal prices in the District of Columbia. The inquiry will be conducted by a committee and will go into the question of prices local retailers pay for their coal, and the prices at which they sell it.

The committee will have authority to inspect the books of the dealers.

Against consideration: Republicans: Bingham, Borah, Butler, Cameron, Capper, Cummins, Deneen, Edges, Ernst, Fernald, Fess, Gillett, Goff, Gooding, Hale, Harrell, Jones, of Washington, Keyes, McKinley, Metcalf, Moses, Norbeck, Oddie, Pepper, Phipps, Pine, Reed, of Penna, Robinson of Indiana; Seckett, Shortridge, Smoot, Stanford, Wadsworth, Warren, Watson, Weller, Williams and Willis—39.

Democrats: Bratton, Fletcher, Harris, King, Ransdell, Robinson of Ark.; Simmons, Stephens and Swanson—9.

BANISH TAXI PETTING PARTIES IN ROME

Rome — (AP) — Taxicab "petting parties" have been banished in the eternal city by the latest edict in a nationwide campaign against the growing influence of the "jazz age."

All taxicabs equipped with shades which may be drawn across the windows have had these shades fastened by means of tiny locks. Each lock bears the lead seal of the Rome Prefect, so that a chauffeur who permits a client to break it to shut himself off from public view can easily be caught. A fine is the penalty.
